

WORLD'S MOST WTF RITUALS!

ZOO

OZ'S BIGGEST!

CHEST & FAIREST!

Huge bra-busting boobs special!

THE WORST SEX ADVICE EVER

AUSSIE
DRONE RACING

29
9 3130061020004
$4.95 NZ$5.50 (INC GST) July 2011 2015
ISSUE 485

PURE, UNCUT
COLOMBIAN

Get addicted to Cata Otalvaro

+ The Stafford Brothers + biggest hits & misses

READ YOUR FAVOURITE MAGAZINES ON ANY DEVICE!

More than forty titles available!

Read ANYWHERE, ANYTIME on ANYTHING!

Search for your favourite magazines on these Apps and websites.

GIRLS

➤ Catalina Otalvaro

NEWS

➤ Sunburn art

FEATURES

➤ Weirdest rituals

SPORT

➤ AFL's hits and misses

REGULARS

➤ Rezvani Beast

THE Z LIST

➤ Film, music, games

insideZOO

► ISSUE 485 JULY 20, 2015

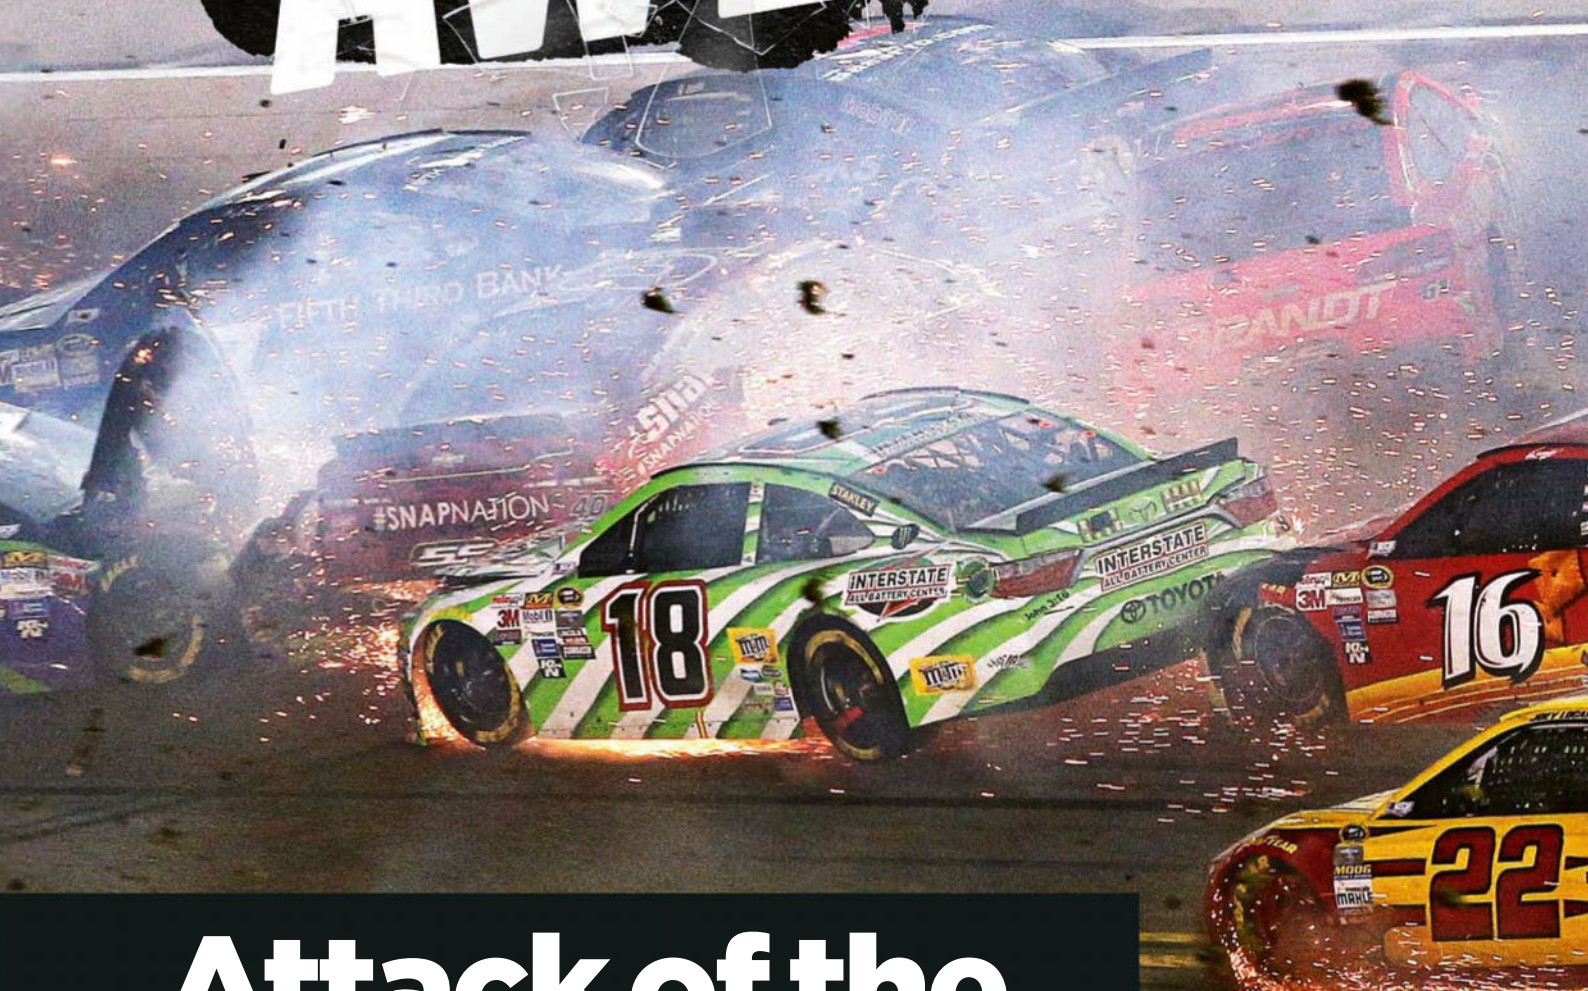

Indo eruption

➤ Thousands of Sumatrans have been evacuated from around Mt Sinabung, which has been spewing up volcanic material since early June, causing flight cancellations to/from Bali.

And I only just put the washing out

THE MOST IN-YOUR-FACE
PICS OF THE WEEK

SHOCK AND AWWE!

Attack of the flying car!

NASCAR racers demand action after horror airborne crash takes out a fence and a handful of spectators

 The engine of Austin Dillon's #3 vehicle was ripped from his car and left smoking on the in-field after this sickening crash on the last lap of the Coke Zero 400 at the Daytona International Raceway. Dillon, who escaped with bruises, said of the 320kmh racers can hit: "Our speeds are too high." Five spectators were treated for injuries. But it could have been much worse had it not been for the safety fence, which kept the car from flying into the stands.

20-METRE HOLE RIPPED IN FENCE

SHOCK AND AWWE!

Having a bat

Gigantic snake scoffs flying mammal in Queensland

 This carpet python on the Sunshine Coast tucked into a square meal — and was caught in the act by locals. The action unfolded in a backyard at Sunrise Beach, where the 3m reptile unhinged its jaws to cover all the angles of its dinner. “This bat was massive, so the snake was almost trying to hook its jaw to try and fit it in,” said Mille Stoevring, who took the staggering photos.

D A N A N A N A...
LUNCHTIME!

Loose cannon

Armenian police didn't stuff about when faced with a rally against 22 per cent price increases in electricity — they smashed into it with water cannons and detained 200 people.

She's a squirter!

ZOO

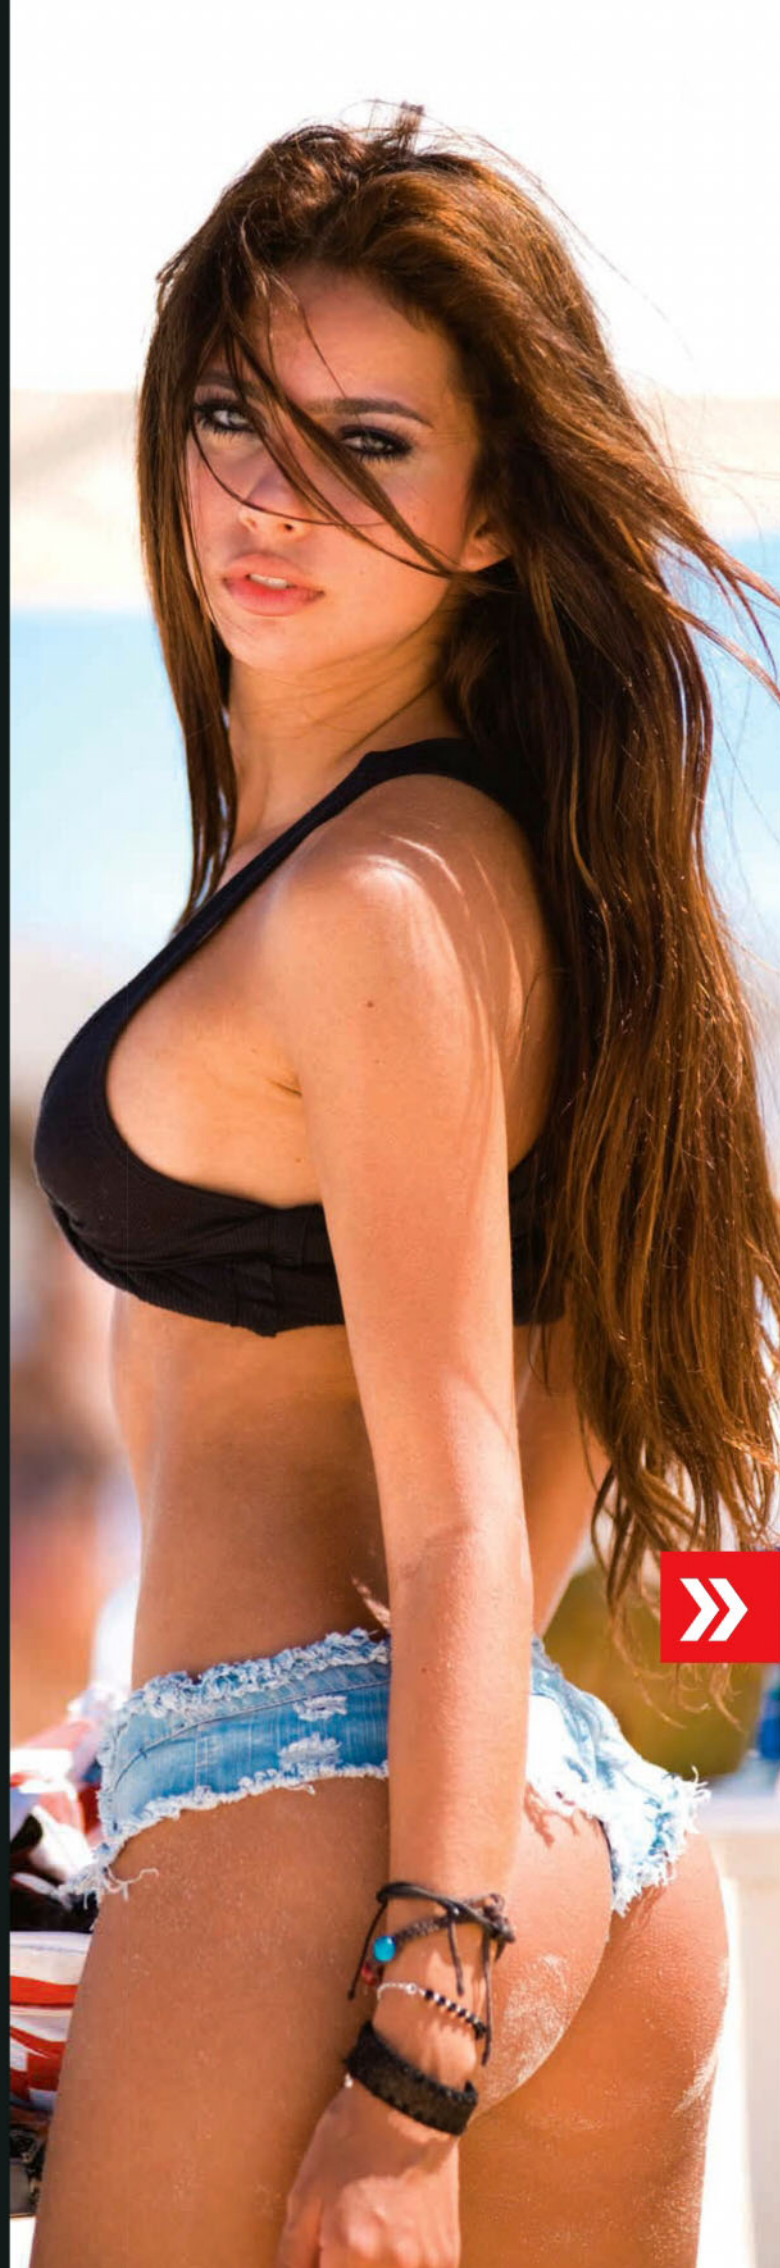

100% PURE, UNCUT COLOMBIAN

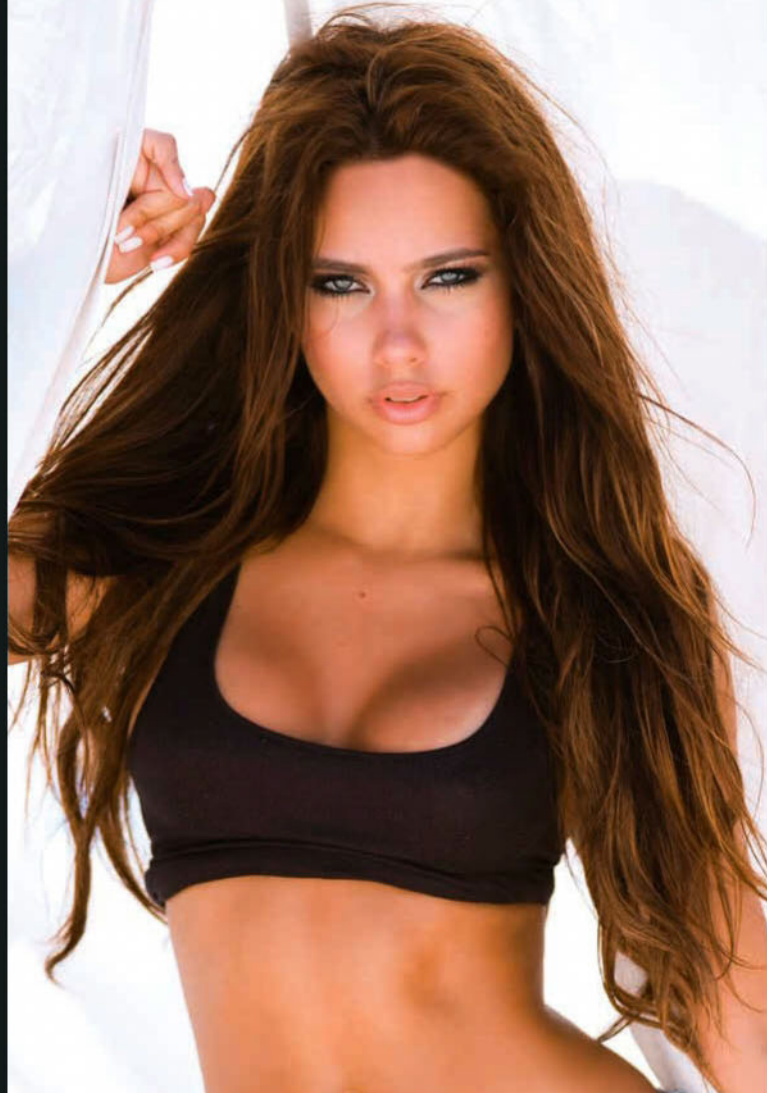

South American supermodel Catalina Otalvaro is more addictive than cocaine

The news that Catalina Otalvaro is famous in her home country for modelling lingerie is about as surprising as finding out that rain is wet or Bernard Tomic is acting like a 24-carat dickhead. If anyone's going to convince a hot-blooded mamacita that she needs more skimpy garments, it's this 26-year-old Adriana Lima look-alike. Her greyish-green eyes pierce to the middle of what's left of ZOO Man's soul, which has been shaken and stirred by her 36D-24-35 figure — sensual, beautiful and not short on booty. She was born in Cali but now studies law in Medellin. Imagine throwing yourself to the mercy of the court if she was handling your case. Guilty, your honour!

CATALINA
OTALVARO

ZOO

CATALINA OTALVARO

TO SEE MORE STUNNING BABES, GO TO INTHEZOO
.COM.AU

PICTURES LIPSTICK SYNDICATION

news

➤ USS GERALD FORD ➤ DRONE RACING ➤ WEIRD SEX ADVICE

Sunburn art!

Because tattooing and piercing your skin is so five minutes ago

➤ The latest social media trend for idiots is sunburn art, like drawing a cock and balls on your mate's back when he's at the beach, but not as funny and much more likely to lead to cancer — and, even worse, premature wrinkles.

The #sunburnart hashtag first appeared on Apr 1, 2013 — coincidence?

— before blowing up in early June when Brisbane station Hit105 published pictures of it online with a warning from Cancer Council Australia.

Since then everyone's got in on the act without checking if anyone other than morons have tried it. Most sunburn art is accidental, especially among chicks who make the mistake of letting their guys put sunblock on their back...

After mastering the cock and balls, sunburn artists move on to more complicated patterns

BIZARRE BIKINI LINE!

The Pink Knight is a superhero orphaned after his parents died of skin cancer

Uncle Sam's killer NEW WARSHIP explained!

Why the USS Gerald R. Ford supercarrier is the Death Star of the ocean

A WORLD-FIRST ELECTROMAGNETIC AIRCRAFT LAUNCHER REPLACES STEAM CATAPULTS

25%

She can carry out 25 per cent more flight missions per day than existing carriers

30

Top speed is 30 knots, just over 55kmh

81,467

Tonnes weight, clocking in at 400 Statues of Liberty

She can carry 4539 personnel and hold more than 75 aircraft

It took 757,080 litres of paint to cover her. That's enough to paint the White House 350 times

Cost: $17.1 billion

The island — which houses the bridge — weighs 555 tonnes alone

3,048,000

metres of electrical wires — enough to reach the International Space Station approximately 7.6 times

The Gerald R. Ford replaces the Enterprise (not the one from Star Trek, though)

To keep everyone cool, she runs 8981 tonnes of air-conditioning equipment

8981 TONNES

Powered by two nuclear reactors

1814 tonnes of weld metal used in her construction

1,219,200

metres of fibre-optic cable — enough to reach the International Space Station approximately three times

337

METRES LONG

PICTURES: CHRIS OXLEY/WWW.HUNTINGTONILLUS.COM

PICTURES: XXX

Aussie drone racers go underground!

Dispute with aviation bosses means gun pilots sling their machines around car parks at 60kmh in FPV racing, the world's newest sport

One of the world's first legal drone racing leagues is underway at indoor venues on the Australian east coast.

Contestants are unable to race outside thanks to rules dating from 1997 governing model aircraft, but they've adapted to the challenge.

Wearing FPV (first-person view) goggles, they steer the tiny drones at speeds of up to 60kmh, seeing through the on-board camera and trying not to crash into walls.

"FPV is such a different, immersive experience, everyone's wanting to be that Star Wars pod racer, going in between the hills," says Chad Nowak, who flew from his Brisbane home to Melbourne to take part in a meet.

"It just totally blew me away," he said, likening racing to a "disease", but hopefully not anything as bad as Ebola.

Racing drones can cost $1000 off the shelf, though enthusiasts at the meets are building their own for as little as $400, a price that should fall as drone technology improves. Venues include kart tracks, farms and warehouses.

Nowak's competing in the first US National Drone Racing Championships at the California State Fair on July 15-17 with 200 others, for a shot at a $25,000 prize pool.

And the first trans-Tasman title will be decided over four days of flying at the Gold Coast Extreme Sports expo in December. Bring it on!

GET THE APP!

Race speeds hit 60kmh, however gun pilot Chad Nowak set the blistering record of 158kmh!

KINGS OF THE DRONE AGE

Waiter, there's a hair in my tossed salad...

Tripadvisor for CRIMS!

Ex-prisoners go online and rate their stay in the big house

Former jailbirds in the UK have been using Google's review system to rate the prisons they're locked up in — and, surprisingly, some of them are getting high marks.

The highest-rating jail, the minimum-security HMP Haverigg in Cumbria, got an outstanding 4.5 stars out of five, which is a mark a lot of posh hotels would be happy with. There's a lot of piss-taking going on in the reviews, too. One wag wrote: "Pros: regular meals. Cons: cons."

We've gathered a few of the best reviews below...

HMP Wormwood Scrubs

Reviews

Write a review

1 ★★★★★

"The view from the window was poor and obscured by iron bars. Facilities were rudimentary to say the least — no television, mini bar or ensuite facilities. Due to overbooking I was forced to share with a rather charmless individual."

1 ★★★★★

"Inferior long-term-stay accommodation compared with other facilities at this price point. I must agree with other reviewers that food quality is a problem; perhaps engaging the services of a cordon bleu chef may raise the standards."

5 ★★★★★

"Helpful staff and staying full board is a must! Well organised daily activities. Great place to get away from the wife and kids."

HMP Belmarsh

Reviews

Write a review

4 ★★★★★

"The inhabitants of HMP Belmarsh make excellent neighbours. Lights always out at 10 o'clock and they never throw noisy parties."

HMP Wakefield

Reviews

Write a review

4 ★★★★★

"Wakefield prison is a good prison. Officers were brilliant, helpful and very supportive."

HMP Haverigg

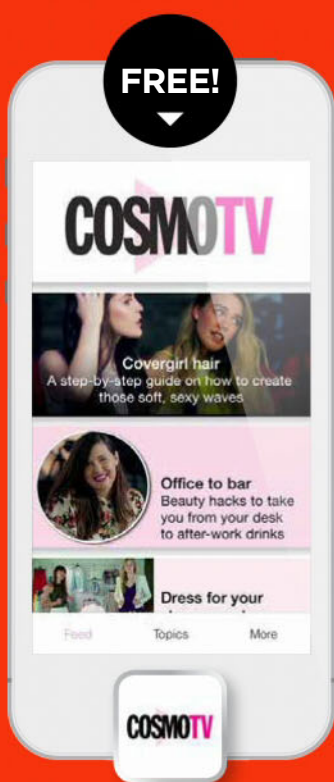

Reviews

Write a review

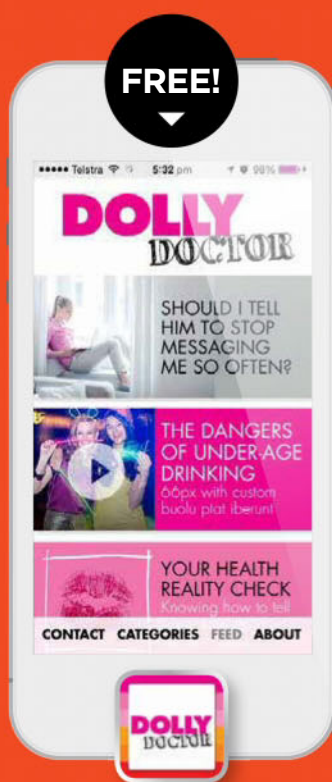

5 ★★★★★

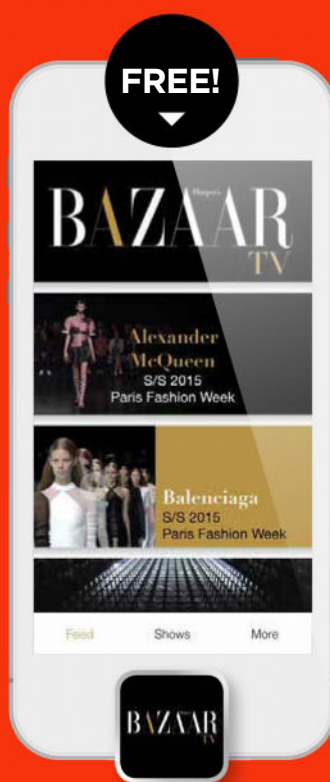

"Of all the jails I've been to, this was the best. Five years flew by. Loved it."

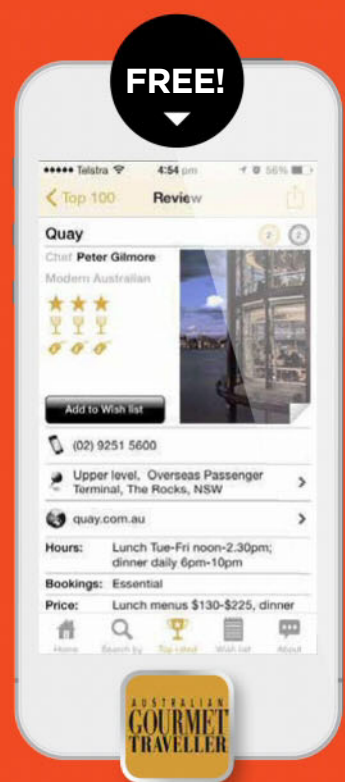

Cosmo TV

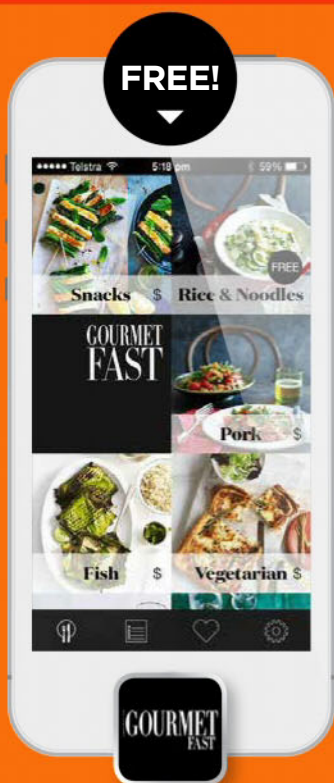

Dolly Doctor

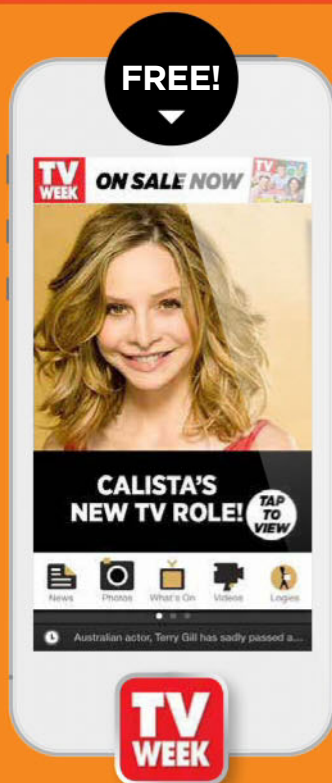

Harper's Bazaar TV

Gourmet Traveller Restaurant Guide 2014

Gourmet Fast

TV Week

Rugby League Week +

Cosmopolitan Australia

GO BEYOND THE PAGES OF YOUR FAVOURITE MAGAZINES

Apple, the Apple logo and iPad are trademarks of Apple Inc., registered in the U.S. and other countries. App Store is a service mark of Apple Inc. *Excludes Cosmopolitan Magazine.

The most BIZARRE SEX advice ever

A bunch of shocking tips from celebs and magazines. Don't try them at home... or anywhere else

"It makes sex better. Believe me, the first time I did it, the technician did half, and I was like 'Stop!' She said, 'Sit down, I have to finish.' But then it gets easier. The more you do it, the less hair grows back. But yeah, I love it. I swear by it. Every woman should try a Brazilian wax once. And then the sex they have afterward will make them keep coming back."

— Eva Longoria

"Slip a doughnut around his penis and slowly eat it off. Gently stick his penis through the hole and slowly nibble around it, stopping to suck him once in a while. The sugary texture of your tongue will add an interesting new dimension."

"After your workout, reinforce her rising T with a sweaty makeout session: male saliva has 10 to 15 times more testosterone than the female's does... So prolonged French kissing may give a woman enough of a boost in testosterone to stimulate her interest chemically."

"Women should suck on a cough drop before oral sex on their man."

— LL Cool J

"If you're out in public but want to make your intentions clear, slowly and firmly flick your tongue against the palm of her hand. If she just wipes it off down her skirt, you've blown it."

“According to new research, the smell of toast is a serious mood booster.”

“Put on your toughest, most confident mug as you look at her. Because of the shift in hormone levels, research says, women on the pill are more attracted to men with rugged features, such as strong, wide jaws.”

Wait a minute... that's not yoghurt!

“The key to sexiness may lie in yogurt — at least for mice. The testicles of mice fed a yogurt diet were five per cent bigger than those on a regular diet — and 15 per cent bigger than mice fed a ‘junk food diet,’ according to a new study out of MIT [the Massachusetts Institute of Technology].”

“Five short hairstyles that will get you laid!”

“Hold her gaze for a minute. If she's blinking more than normal (which is about 15 times a minute), there's a good chance she's on the pill; women on birth control blink 32 per cent more than those who aren't.”

A giant circle jerk will help crops grow — belief held by ancient pagan religions

Don't have sex on Good Friday or you'll get stuck inside your woman for 24 hours

— well, that's according to a Filipino superstition

“Hold his penis in one hand and lightly slap it with the other... you can tap it back and forth like you're volleying a tennis ball and lightly pinch the skin on his shaft and testicles. Many women make the mistake of being too gentle.”

“Because in every animal that walks upright the deficiency of the fluids that fills the muscles appears first in the highest part. The face first grows lank and wrinkled; then the neck; then the breast and arms; the lower parts continuing to the last as plump as ever: so that covering all above with a basket, and regarding only what is below the girdle, it is impossible of two women to tell an old one from a young one. And as in the dark all cats are grey, the pleasure of corporal enjoyment with an old woman is at least equal, and frequently superior; every knack being... capable of improvement” — US founding father Ben Franklin. Basically, chase cougars as their vaginas don't age as quickly as their faces. What a gent!

Beast mode

The Rezvani Beast makes 500 horsepower donk and weighs even less than Justin Bieber's nads

 Fardees Rezvani's plan was for a supercar that didn't break the scales or the wallet. And he delivered with the 750kg Beast, which runs on a 375kW 2.4-litre four-cylinder engine that can hit 0-100kmh in 2.7 seconds and costs around $215k. The Ariel Atom 3 chassis is reinforced with carbon steel, and inside you'll find an Apple CarPlay-based infotainment system. Rezvani are taking orders now, but you'll have to wait eight to 12 weeks.

TOP SPEED OF 267KM/H!

GET THE APP!

JOKES

● My wife and I were sitting at a table at her high school reunion when she kept staring at a drunken man swigging a beer as he sat at a nearby table.

I asked her,

"Do you know him?"

"Yes," she sighed.

"He's my old boyfriend. I understand he took to drinking right after we split up many years ago and he hasn't been sober since.

"Wow," I said. "Who would think a person could celebrate for so long?"

WAYNE, VIA EMAIL

WHAT'S BLUE AND DOESN'T WEIGH VERY MUCH?

LIGHT BLUE.

ROBBIE, VIA EMAIL

● A burglar breaks into a house one night. He's shining his flashlight around, looking for valuables, when a voice in the dark says, "Jesus knows you're here."

He nearly jumps out of his skin, clicks his flashlight off, and freezes. When he hears nothing more, he shakes his head and continues.

Just as he pulls the stereo out so he can disconnect the wires, clear as a bell he hears, "Jesus is watching you."

Startled, he shines his light around frantically, looking for the source of the voice. Finally, in the corner of the room, his flashlight beam comes to rest on a parrot.

"Did you say that?" he hisses at the parrot.

Lorry Daley

"Yes", the parrot confesses, then squawks, "I'm just trying to warn you that he's watching you."

The burglar relaxes.

"Warn me, huh? Who in the world are you?"

"Moses," replies the bird.

"Moses?" the burglar laughs. "What kind of people would name a bird Moses?"

And the bird says, "The kind of people who would name a Rottweiler Jesus." EMILY, VIA EMAIL

● When I was a kid I prayed every night for a new bicycle. Then I realised the Lord doesn't work that way, so I stole one and asked for forgiveness instead.

DAMIAN, VIA EMAIL

● A couple have 13 children, 12 of them are blonde and have blue eyes, and one has black hair and brown eyes. His name is Peter.

One day the wife is dying of cancer. Her husband is sitting on her bed. The husband says, "Our Peter is a little bit different from the other kids. Does he have a different father?"

His wife says yes. The man says, "Then who's his dad?"

Reluctantly, his wife answers, "You."

HELEN, VIA EMAIL

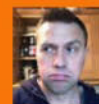

Imagine owning a parrot and not teaching it to say, "I'm not a parrot, I'm your father. Your drinks were spiked and the doctor's on his way."

@sixthformpoet

I tried to be polite and hold the door open for a woman, but she kept screaming, "I'm peeing in here!"

@slimmy_shady

A lion, a witch and a wardrobe go into a bar. The barman says, "I'm serving Narnia".

@craiguito Jul 23

Donald Trump's strategy to defeat ISIS? Four words:

DINOSAURS WITH MACHINE GUNS.

@fiatpanda

Drove past my friend Steve earlier when he was out running.

Shouted "RUN, FORREST, RUN" at him out the window for a laugh. It wasn't Steve.

@Pandamoanimum

I've lost my phone so to get the numbers back off friends,

I've got a phone book and I'm scribbling out everyone I don't know.

@JCaumatic

JACQUES the RIPPER

ZOO's stand-up comedian heckles life every week

CAVEMAN YES, LETTUCE-HOUND NO!

I'm eating paleo at the moment, which you may have also heard of as the "caveman diet". I'm trying to lose a few kilos and hopefully break less twigs when I sneak up on campers late at night in a forest. Goals 'n' shit, eh.

Processed foods like bread and refined sugar aren't allowed on the diet, which is cool, they've always given me brain fog and meant I struggled to write my sweet dick jokes. Stuff I'm allowed to eat on paleo is basic wholefoods like fruits, vegetables, meats, and my own penis... see? Gold-class D-joke, brahhh!

Problem is I'm getting ostracised by my friends and family, and at least half the people I tell that I'm doing paleo act like I just told them I now finger cats. Paleo isn't a gateway diet to veganism. I'm still Jacquiqui from the block and I'll never go vego.

I know vegetarianism is more humane and the slaughter of animals for food is a raw deal, but steak is the only thing that tastes like steak, and you can eat heaps of it on Paleo. I do try and eat free-range because it's better for the chicken. I imagine they're all hangin' out in the paddock in a big pussy posse, wearing sunglasses and rubbing tanning oil into each other, but deep down I know they only taste better 'cos they contain hope.

For me the biggest hurdle to being a full-time salad jockey is bacon. I've heard lettuce-hounds hammer the guilt leaves into us all by saying an adult pig has the equivalent intelligence of a three-year-old toddler, but unfortunately, it's a toddler wrapped in bacon.

You wrap any animal in crackling, pork chops and thick-cut rind and I'll be on some kind of sex offender's register by day's end.

Go read up on paleo a little more before you judge it, 'cos we humans are all very quick to shitcan new ways to think, live or eat without trying them ourselves. We're the smartest species on the planet but we're sometimes the dumbest.

I have a fish tank at home 'cos I read somewhere that if one goldfish in a tank starts acting strangely, all the other goldfish will gather around it, observe it and start to mimic it just to see if it's a cool new way to swim, or some type of genetic mutation or evolutionary leap.

And it's true, I watch it happening, and then I eat that goldfish, 'cos fk them for thinking different.

See, I'm still one of you. Added bonus is the smell of goldfish on my fingers makes it easy to lure cats... yew!

STUFF I'M ALLOWED TO EAT ON PALEO IS BASIC WHOLEFOODS
LIKE FRUITS, VEGETABLES, MEATS AND MY OWN PENIS...

JACQUES' COCK IS ON tinder

I borrowed a girl's phone and took over some Tinder convos for her...

UNSUSPECTING DUDE: I'm doing dry for July, looking forward to the challenge.

Me: I'll be doing it as well...

Unsuspecting dude: Really? That's cool. A month off the booze will be very healthy.

Me: Oh no, I'll be drinking, but you're so boring that my vagina will probably be dry the entire month, and most of August, too.

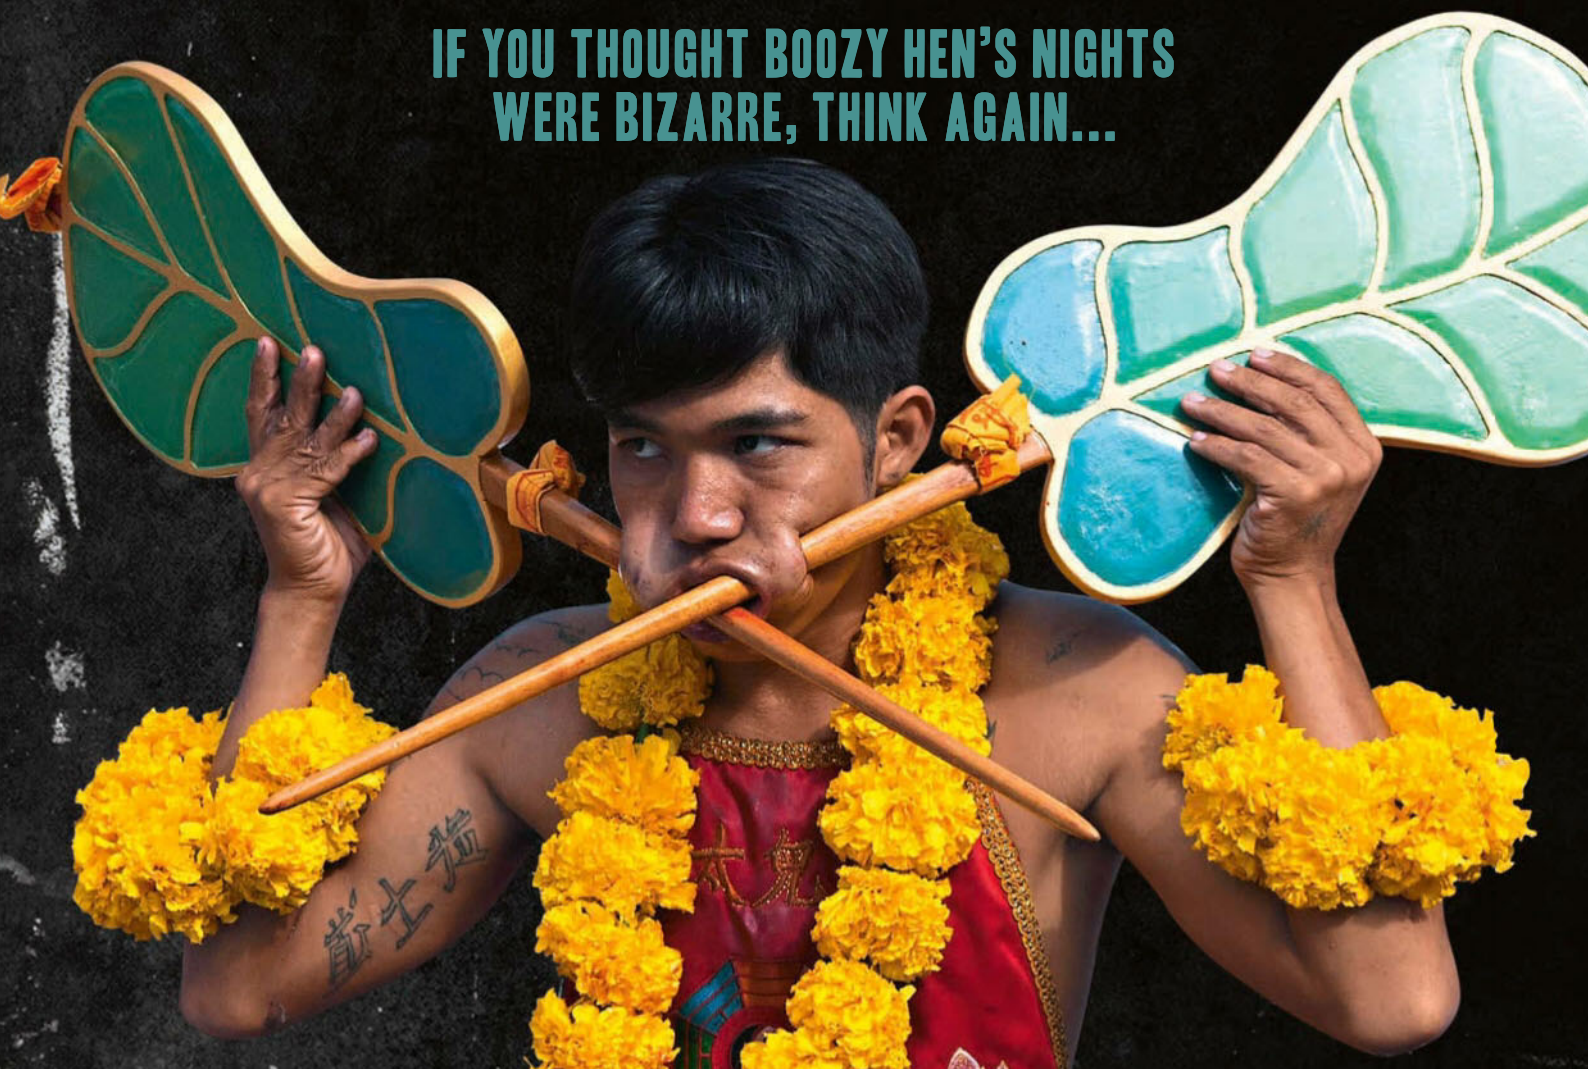

PICTURES: GETTY IMAGES

ZOO

THE WORLD'S

WEIRDEST RITUALS

IF YOU THOUGHT BOOZY HEN'S NIGHTS WERE BIZARRE, THINK AGAIN...

NAILED IT!

Turns out Easter's not just about a big Thursday night on the piss followed by the horrific realisation that bottle-Os are closed on Good Friday. It's also about the torture-porn execution of Christ and his resurrection after chilling out for a few days in the original man cave. And the 80 million or so Catholics who live in The Philippines take Easter very seriously indeed. None more so than the godbotherers who gather each year in various Filipino cities to re-enact Christ's murder — with themselves in the starring roles! Although the Pope has told them to cut it out, these nutters keep dressing up in ancient Roman-style gear and marching barefoot over rough streets for miles, whipping themselves as they go, before they're nailed to crosses and erected for the contemplation and entertainment of spectators. Ruben Enaje holds the crucifixion record, getting himself nailed — with 18cm spikes — 27 times from 1985 to his retirement in 2013. All of this self-inflicted pain is to praise God, atone for sins and beg for the sick to be cured. We'd prefer to believe that just giving up a few things for Lent — colonoscopies, tofu, Two and a Half Men re-runs — is enough to put us right with the Big Guy Upstairs.

PIERCED-OFF VEGOS

"Put some pork on your fork" is exactly the sort of advice that vegetarians don't want to hear.

Which makes it weird that participants in Thailand's Phuket Vegetarian Festival celebrate its end by stabbing themselves through the sweet meat of their own cheeks with forks, knives, skewers, drill bits and any other sharp objects they can lay their hands on. Established in 1825, the purification ritual lasts nine days and asks participants to abstain from meat, alcohol and sex (sounds like hell). At its climax, spectators witness a gore-fest out of The Walking Dead as devotees do their best to pierce their faces as gruesomely as possible, while others get their masochistic kicks by dousing themselves in hot oil or climbing ladders with razors set into their steps. Unsurprisingly, dozens of people are injured every year.

BABY JUMPING

Babies, what are they good for? Sure, they make a handy doorstop in a pinch, but other than that, we thought of them as crying shit machines. That is, until we learned of Spain's awesome "baby jumping festival". The maniacal inhabitants of Castrillo de Murcia village reckon the only way to ensure a newborn's purity is to annually enact the El Colacho ritual. On this day, parents with babes born in the past year lay their sprogs down on pillows along a main street. Then men dressed as the Devil strike fear into the crowd, even going so far as to whip bystanders, before they hurtle down the road and hurdle over the tykes. This apparently relieves the youngsters of sin. We presume being jumped over by devils also inspires the babies to relieve themselves of nappyloads of fright shite.

THE WORLD'S WEIRDEST RITUALS

BLOODY BABAS

No trip to India is complete without a visit to Varanasi, the holy city on the banks of the river Ganges, where Hindu faithful come to cremate their dead. But among the local mourners and curious tourists you might also spy the freaky Aghori Babas. These dreadlocked holy men and women, who wear face and body paint but little else, believe the way to achieve enlightenment is via breaking the most extreme of taboos. That's why they live in cemeteries, ritualistically get stoned and drunk, and then eat the cremated remains of their countrymen. The Aghori Babas are also said to wear human skin and bones, drink blood and wee, eat poo and, most shockingly, listen to Taylor Swift's Shake It Off on repeat. OK, that last one's not true.

WHIP IT GOOD!

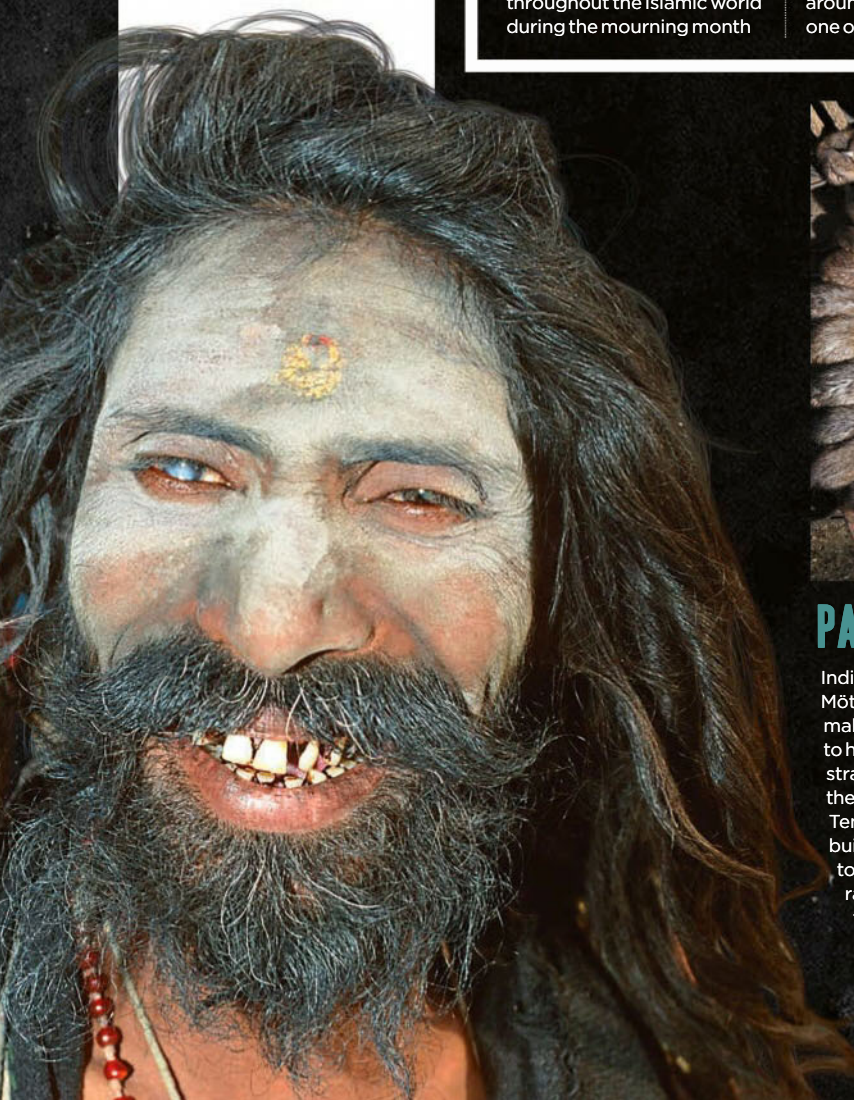

You've only got to look at the news coming out of places like Iraq and Syria to get the idea that some Shiite Muslims can be a little extreme about things. But if you were in any doubt, look no further than the self-flagellation processions that occur throughout the Islamic world during the mourning month known as Muharram. In order to honour Imam Hussein, the grandson of the Prophet Mohammed, who was murdered with 72 followers, Shiite believers bloodily rip into themselves with chains adorned with spikes and blades, leaving the area around them looking like one of Eli Roth's wet dreams.

NO-POO HONEYMOON

When you think of your honeymoon, you probably picture yourself sexing your bride before swilling beers at your five-star Thai beach resort's swim-up bar. The last thing you imagine is you and the missus holed up in a dark room as you both groan in agony because you desperately need to hit the dunny. Lucky you're not part of the Tidong community of Malaysian Borneo. They reckon if a bride and groom do a poo or a wee in the first three days after marriage they risk divorce, infertility or even the death of their children. So after they're wed, the happy couple are confined to a room where their primary objective is to not defecate or urinate for 72 looooooong hours. They're also probably equipped with butterfly clips and industrial staplers just in case things get desperate.

PASS THE RATSAK!

India is home to more Gods than Mötley Crüe had groupies. So it makes sense they're also going to have a staggering amount of strange beliefs and rituals. One of the oddest is seen at Karni Mata Temple in Rajasthan, which was built about 100 years ago and today crawls with some 20,000 rats. Each year thousands of faithful Hindus make a pilgrimage to this sacred place in order to pray to the writhing mass of vermin that are representatives of the rodent goddess Karni Mata. Pilgrims hope to be "blessed" by having a rat crawl over their feet. Even better luck? Getting the chance to finish off some food or water that a rodent has had its evil little snout in. The very best fortune of all? Spotting one of the four or five pure white rats that live there. We have it on good authority that these albino specimens are emissaries of the legendary god-figure Vishnustuartlittle.

NEW UNDIES, PLEASE!

New Year's Eve is the night for getting on it, making a lot of bullshit resolutions and passing out around the time Richard Wilkins starts chanting "10... nine... eight..." on the telly. With so much booze consumed, it's definitely not the time to be sporting a new pair of jocks or boxers. But try telling that to the superstitious folks of at least four South American countries. In Brazil, Ecuador, Venezuela and Bolivia, it's considered lucky to buy and wear new undies on NYE. Different colours connote different outcomes. Red brings hot sexytimes in the coming year, while wrapping your junk in yellow fabric apparently brings good financial fortune. You can go for white if you want peace and pink will bring love.

I'M BIRDMAN!

Until the 1860s, each year a man on Easter Island would be crowned "Tangata Manu", which translates to "Birdman". A bunch of dudes were nominated as potential Birdmen. They'd then nominate hopu — suckers who'd compete on their behalf to bring the first sooty tern egg of the season into the village. Sounds easy, except the terns lived on a rocky outcrop surrounded by shark-infested waters. The hopu would swim out to this tiny island and hope to be the one who could snatch up the first egg laid. When a hopu had grabbed his prize, he'd shout back to their patron, "Go shave your head, you have got the egg!" Then he'd put the egg in a basket, tie it to his head, swim back to shore and climb a sheer cliff to reach the village and his patron. His boss-man would then be declared "Birdman". A lot of contestants were eaten by sharks, drowned or fell to their deaths from cliffs.

AMAZIN' AMAZON, MAN!

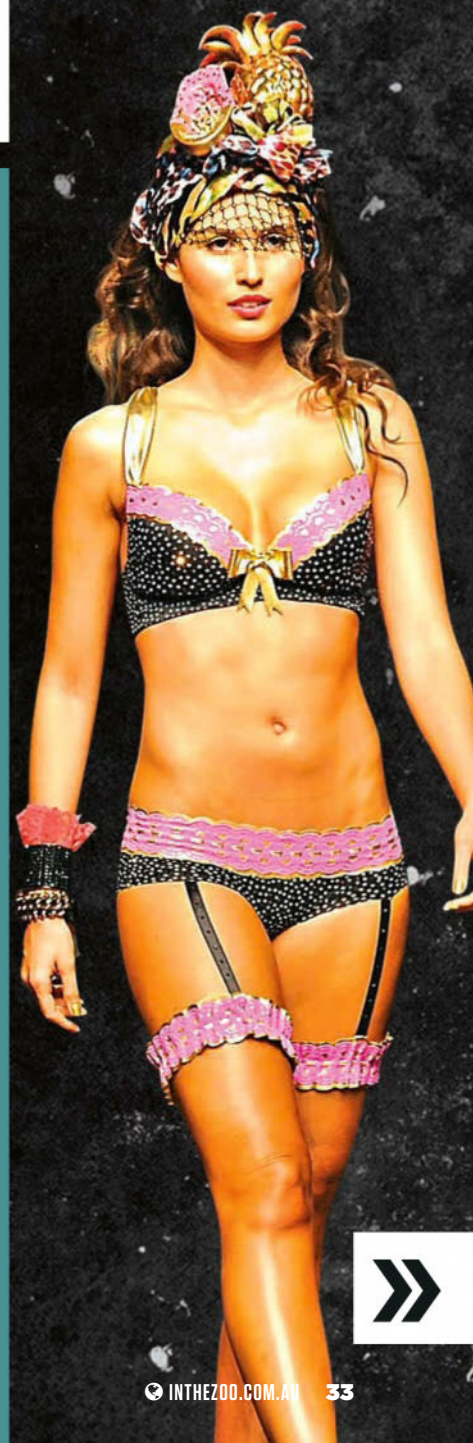

The Amazon isn't just a place where you can buy DVD box sets. In parts of the South American jungle-river wilderness, there's a whole lot of tripping going on. Locals use a brew called ayahuasca to sort out their physical, mental and spiritual issues. Basically, you hang with a shaman and drink a bowl of vile juice made from various vines that contain natural psychedelics. About half an hour later you undergo profound revelatory experiences about your place in the cosmos, which include vivid visions and even deep and meaningful contact with alien-type spirit-guide beings. The trip lasts anywhere up to nine hours and is reported to be pretty safe unless you've got pre-existing heart or blood-pressure problems. The downside is you spew up a lot and spend the next few years wearing kaftans and listening to Cat Stevens. For an idea of how it might play out, watch The Simpsons Movie, in which Homer appears to drink ayahuasca offered to him by a shaman.

THAILAND, SWINGING CAPITAL OF THE WORLD

This 27-metre T-shaped structure outside the Wat Suthat Temple looks like the perfect place to hang an old tyre on the end of a rope. Until relatively recently that's what The Giant Swing was used for. Built in 1784, this skyscraper's purpose was the re-enactment of Hindu creation stories. Young, elaborately costumed Thai men would use the swing to shoot themselves high into the air and try to snatch a bag of money from atop a 25-metre pole — with their teeth! The practice was discontinued in 1935 due to the number of fatalities. But think of it as a ritual that was the granddaddy of Jackass.

OLD-FASHIONED BUNGEE-JUMPING

These days bungee-jumping is a rite of passage for annoying backpackers, up there with doing a stint as a hopeless Bondi barista. But spare a thought for the poor tribes-dudes of Pentecost Island in Vanuatu, because they should be getting a royalty payment every time some idiot says "YOLO!" and leaps off a tower with their ankle attached to a big rubber band. See, for centuries or even millennia, they've been practicing "Ngol", or "land diving".

Basically, it involves the men erecting 20- to 30-metre towers and jumping off them with vines tied to their feet. They do this not to get "rad" selfies but to enter into manhood and/or ensure bountiful crop harvests. As you can imagine, it doesn't always go to plan. In 1974, Queen Elizabeth II was in the audience when a less-than-ideally-elastic vine saw an islander do a fatal faceplant. She was not amused (although, secretly, she probably was).

THE WORLD'S WEIRDEST RITUALS

THE LOVE SHACK

In Australia, only the most liberal fathers let their teenage daughters head into their bedrooms to play hide the Chiko Roll with their boyfriends. But in Cambodia's Kreung culture, dads actually build huts so their offspring can entertain guys in privacy. But there are rules: young Kreung chicks can have it off with as many lads as they like until they find one they want to marry, but the boys have to clear out by dawn 'cos unmarried members of the opposite sex aren't allowed to be seen together in public. While the ritual sounds like a teen lad's fantasy, it's actually credited with empowering women by putting sexual choice in their hands and with reducing instances of rape and domestic abuse.

BURIED ALIVE

Our political leaders suck. They use their time in office to screw things up even more, blame everyone but themselves and retire to live high on the hog at taxpayers' expense. Bastards! That's why we should take a leaf out of the book of the Dinka people of Africa. They don't believe their leaders should die of natural causes, so they bury them alive when they're old and infirm. The elders don't just agree to this ritualistic snuffing, they actually ask for it. The only modification we'd make is that it'd occur sooner rather than later for our leaders, perhaps when their approval ratings dip below 50 per cent, and that the ceremony should take place at halftime during the AFL grand final.

YOU CAN'T HANDLE THE TOOTH!

Literally, you can't. That's because it's the sacred tooth of the Lord Buddha and it's been revered in the aptly named town of Kandy, Sri Lanka, for the past 1600 years. Every year, in July or August, Buddhists observe a lavish 10-day celebration called The Festival of the Sacred Tooth, in which the streets are filled with jugglers, fire breathers, dancers, drummers and heavily blinged elephants. It's all in veneration of this tiny bit of Buddha, which apparently survived cremation back in the day. And in case you get any ideas about stealing the tooth from the back of an elephant during the festival, forget it. They use a tooth double and keep the original safely inside seven gold caskets in the Temple of the Sacred Tooth, where it's attended to by monks performing rituals three times a day.

BOYZ II MEN

For Australia's emo youth, getting a chin stud, earlobe tunnels and an ironic Elmo tattoo marks the passage from childhood to adolescence. But we'd like to see these duffers undergo the far gnarlier rituals of the Kaningara tribe of PNG. These guys mark the transition with hardcore body modification in which their skin is scored with sharpened bamboo or razors.

But the first cut's not the deepest! Each wound is inflicted seven times, deeper and deeper, then deliberately infected so that the resulting scars are big and bumpy and resemble the skin of the crocodile spirits the Kaningara revere. ZOO is unable to confirm rumours that these days the rest of the tribe commemorate the occasion by singing Crocodile Rock in Pidgin English.

QUALITY FAMILY TIME

We know Madagascar's a weird place because we've seen that documentary about the island nation's all-singing, all-dancing Lemurs. The island's Malagasy people practice a ritual called Famadihana, which translates to "turning the bones", which actually means digging up your dead relatives every few years and making them look all nice in new clothes. Not only do the Malagasy play dress-ups with the dead, they engage them in wild dances, stage feasts and sacrifice animals in their honour. Apparently, this ritual is done to strengthen family bonds but it sounds like Animal House meets Weekend at Bernie's to us.

SKY BURIAL

The Tibetan ritual of sky burial conjures up all sorts of cool visions: having your body fired out of a cannon; being cremated in the burner of a hot-air balloon; being ground into a fine dust and sprinkled across fluffy sunset clouds. Unfortunately, the reality isn't as graceful. The Tibetan word for the ritual is actually jhator, which means "giving alms to the birds", and it involves the corpse of the dearly departed being hacked into little pieces and left out on a high-altitude plateau for the vultures to eat. So next time you're trekking in the Himalayas and see a pile of bird poo, show some goddamned respect and avoid stepping on someone's grandpa!

CHEST & FAIREST

×

If you like boobs that are bigger than Clive Palmer's head, we've got you covered

×

HANNAH ELIZABETH

💎 "I feel like one of the boys. I think that's why I can't get a date," says the Playboy Bunny. We think it's 'cos her 32G boobs are so big no-one can get close enough to her for her to hear them ask her out.

SAMMY BRADDY

💎 Asked to describe her 30GG chesticles, the Pom glamour model said, "Big. Round. Pert. The. Best!" To which we say, "That. Is. Totally. Accurate!"

PICTURES: MATRIX SYNDICATIONS, LIPSTICK SYNDICATIONS, BAUER MEDIA SYNDICATION

CHEST & FAIREST

GET THE APP!

JORDAN CARVER

🔴 The German goddess says she can only drink a half stein of beer at Oktoberfest before she gets “really drunk”. Weird... we thought she'd have a lot of experience with huge jugs.

JEANA BROCK

It's amazing what bras can do now, isn't it? From the looks of things Jeana, an English model, should need two forklifts to support her norks.

LEAH FRANCIS

"I can't keep them hidden!" she reckons. "I swear they're still growing!" Jesus. If that's true, soon Earth will start orbiting them!

STACY GRAY

Another season of The Voice is here and we still can't for the lives of us understand why Stacy's not on it. She's obviously got some of the best lungs in Australia.

AUSTRALIA'S BIGGEST MAN-MADE MAMMARIES!

SARAH MARIE SUMMER'S BOOBS ARE SO BIG THEY COULD HAVE THEIR OWN SEAT AT THE UNITED NATIONS

ZOO

GET THE APP!

“I COULD GO BIGGER BUT I’M HAPPY WITH WHAT I’VE GOT”

G'day,
Sarah
Marie.
Your
boobs

are as big as implants can go when you get them done in Australia. We've been doing lots of very, very detailed research and we read that last year they were up to an M cup! Have they got any bigger since then?

[Laughs] Nothing has changed. I've had the same boobs for about a year and a half now. Technically you can't go that big in Australia, but I twisted the right person's arm. I could go bigger but I'm happy with what I've got.

We bet! Why did you get them so thoroughly upgraded?

I just wanted to be really, really busty — to have a bombshell look like Pamela Anderson or Jessica Rabbit.

And now you make those two look as flat as Miley Cyrus.

Congrats! We'll take a wild guess and say the size of your boobs makes finding clothes a massive hassle.

Yeah, that's the hardest thing! I have to be more strategic about what I wear, so I have to wear a lot of stretchy things. And bras are mission impossible! But these boobs are made for bikinis.

What sort of reactions do you get when you go to the beach?

Wolf whistles, smiles, some people get really nervous, some laugh, and any woman who's there with her partner will try to distract him. Once this guy sent his three little kids over to say they just wanted to get a photo with me. Yeah, right!

Do your mega melons

SARAH
MARIE SUMMER

SARAH
MARIE SUMMER

give you any hassles?
Because if you need help carrying them...

It's definitely good to do back exercises. They make a huge difference because that's the body part under pressure. But I have no problems finding guys to help carry stuff for me!

How do women react to seeing you for the first time, say in the ladies' in a nightclub?

They always want to feel them! Guys won't do it but the girls are shameless. Actually, the last time I went to a pub I just wanted to use the bathroom. As I walked out there were a whole lot of guys with their camera phones out to take a photo of me, like the paparazzi! I had a laugh about it later.

Are you single?

I am. I'm happy, having fun, and I'm focused on my music and acting. I've got a single, Sex Doll, coming to iTunes next week.

We'll keep an ear out. Do you find some guys are too shy to approach you?

I have found that, yeah.

So if any ZOO readers see you in public and want to say hello...

Yes, please! I love meeting new people.

“GIRLS WANT TO FEEL MY BOOBS”

TO SEE MORE STUNNING BABES, GO TO INTHEZOO
.COM.AU

MATT

CHRIS

THE STAFFORD BROTHERS

IN THE ZOO WITH

ZOO babe Brooke Evers gave us the goss on her DJ boyfriend Matt and his bro Chris so we could throw them a few curly questions...

Is it good to be back in Oz, fellas?

Matt: It is, mate.

Chris: Straya!

Matt: We just played a gig in New Zealand and now we're back here for a couple of days.

What's it like living in LA?

Matt: I love it. We've been there for about three and a half years now. It's a good place, man. Good parties, good weather, good times.

How does the Hollywood nightlife compare to the Gold Coast nightlife?

Matt: [Laughs] Well, Gold Coast is pretty much Friday and Saturday night.

Chris: You can go out seven nights a week in LA and it's popping.

Matt: Vegas is pretty similar, as well — there's pool parties and night parties every day.

What's the wildest party you've been to in the States?

Matt: There's a club we're actually flying back to play in LA on Sunday that's called XIV. It goes from 5pm to 10pm on a Sunday afternoon and it is NUTS! It is madness. It's really small, but I've never seen so much confetti and champagne. One of their mottos is: "Save water, spray champagne".

Did you get off the hook for trashing that LA mansion for your Hello clip?

Chris: It actually just got settled recently.

Did you have to pay them out?

Matt: Ah, mate. We can't really talk about it because it's all been settled.

Chris: Let's just say it's settled and everybody's happy.

When you got over to the US with your new management, did you have to sit in some boardroom with a bunch of wanky suits saying, "I think you guys should have a Party Kangaroo"?

Matt: [Laughs] Well, our management did come up with the idea of throwing out the kangaroos, and we were like, "We don't think it's a very good idea..." And then when we did it, the crowds in America would fight over the inflatables. Then we were like, "You know what? We'll do what you say because you know the public here better than we do!"

Is it true you throw out inflatable kangaroos at your shows because blow-up sheep might give you Kiwi boys embarrassing boners?

Matt: [Laughs] We were talking about how if we threw out Kiwis they [the Yanks] wouldn't know what they are.

Chris: I don't mind the idea of sheep, but I'm quite happy with kangaroos.

Do you cop much shit from New Zealanders for disowning them and calling yourselves Aussies?

Matt: It's kind of funny because we just did a festival there and a lot of them don't know we are Kiwis.

Chris: If people ask us where we're from, we do say Australia. But then if you talk to us a bit longer we say that we were born in New Zealand. Our whole family is here and we're Australian citizens and have Aussie passports.

Do the Yanks know the difference between Aussies and Kiwis?

Chris: They don't even know about Australia!

Matt: One time we were at a party and we asked a girl where Australia was, and she said, "It's off Miami..." And she was dead serious! 'Cos she knew she was wrong, she corrected herself and said, "Actually... it's above Europe." And we're like, "You're waaay off!"

Can you reveal who's inside the Party Kangaroo? Is it The Stig?

Matt: It's a guy whose secret can never be let out.

Chris: It's a kangaroo in a kangaroo suit.

So does anyone else ever get to have a cameo in the suit?

Chris: Celebrities.

Matt: It's actually Paris Hilton [laughs].

Matt, is it true you've been battling some weight issues thanks to your diet of four burritos a day?

Matt: [Laughs] Mate, I love a good burrito. You're probably right — with these weight issues, I've probably gotta cut back on those shrimp burritos.

Does your arse sound like Timmy Trumpet after eating so many burritos?

Matt: [Laughs] Mate, there's some similarities.

Why do children hate you, Matt?

Matt: [Laughs] What?

Why do kids hate you?

Matt: When I meet a lot of my mates' children I think they find me a bit intimidating with my stupid hair, and I'm 6'3" and 100kg, so...

Chris: It's because of all those burritos.

We hear your girlfriend and ZOO cover babe Brooke Evers' niece is famous and mates with the Kardashians nowadays...

Matt: Yeah. She's become a bit of an online celebrity, mate.

Chris: She's got over 100,000 followers.

Matt, what made you want to copy Warwick Capper's hair style?

Matt: I actually grew my hair to go to an AC/DC concert. I bought tickets and I was like, "I'm gonna grow my hair." I had 10 months to grow my hair before the concert. So when I got there, I finally had a mullet so I could headbang. Then I was like, "I'm not cutting it, it's taken so long to get here."

"My best magic trick is making alcohol disappear!"

Chris, is it true you wanted to be a magician?

Chris: [Laughs] There was one point when I definitely wanted to be a magician.

Matt: When people say, "What would you do if you weren't DJs?" Chris always answers "magician".

What's your best magic trick?

Chris: Ah... making alcohol disappear.

We hear you're also an awesome artist and created a character called Anus the Cat...

Matt: The "Mouth of the South" [Brooke] has given you all the goods!

Chris: When I was younger, I either wanted to be a cartoonist or a magician, so there's quite a few characters: Pantyhose Ninja, Tobacco Man... I've got a whole comic book.

Matt: We could actually give you a strip for ZOO. We could start giving you a weekly strip.

We'll send you some.

Yeah, go on. That would be cool.

Chris: Anus the Cat is coming out in ZOO! I've never had anything published before so that'd be awesome!

A little birdie told us you guys are fans of wearing budgie smugglers...

Chris: Just around the house.

Not down at the beach.

Matt: Maybe doing a cannonball into the pool.

And which one of you boys is smuggling the biggest budgie?

Matt: Awww... well, they do call me "Matt the BIG brother" so...

Matt, what it's like dating a ZOO cover girl?

Matt: Mate, it's great 'cos she always tells interviewers all your deepest, darkest secrets and never keeps her mouth shut. You know what — Brooke's a good girl, man. We have a lot of fun together. The worst part about it is the spray tan: the smell and the orange stain on the sheets.

Do you feel like you've finally made it now you're on the cover of Woman's Day, Chris?

Chris: [Laughs] Nah, I think a ZOO cover would be better! ZOO's an amazing magazine and I'm just happy we're talking to you and Anus the Cat's going to be in ZOO.

The coverline said Delta had to hide you, which makes it sound like you were kidnapped. Where exactly did she hide you? Was it on the set of The Voice?

Chris: I'm not sure. I'm out in the open, running around. You can find me anywhere — come to one of our gigs!

Speaking of kidnapping, what was it like working with Rick Ross on your new single?

Matt: Rick's great. We actually did the recording with Jay Sean in L.A. We spent a lot more time with Jay.

Have you got any plans to release a crazy, Hello-like video clip for When You Feel This?

Matt: We've got a lyric video dropping with the record and there are plans for a video clip we're finalising at the moment.

Chris: Maybe the whole film clip can be Anus the Cat. This is my pinnacle and then I can finally leave the Stafford Brothers and live my lifelong dream of being a cartoonist...

Can you guys still party hard now you're both dating?

Matt: Our shows are always a party, mate. That's what we're about.

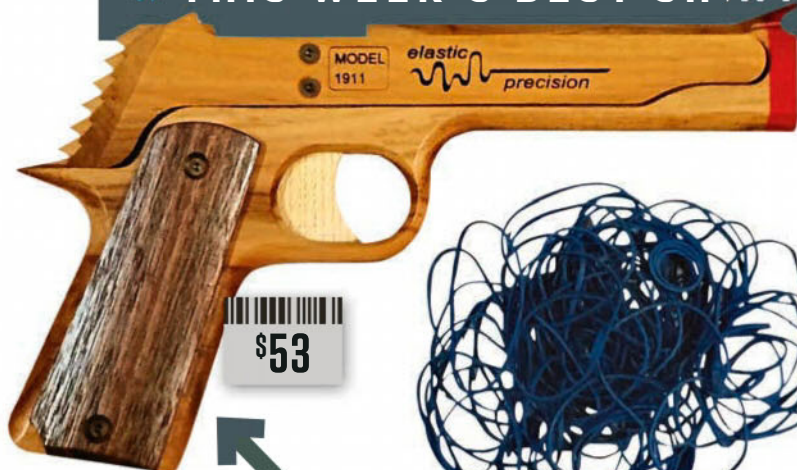

Chris: We're professionals. It's our job.

➔ When You Feel This (feat Rick Ross and Jay Sean) is out now. More info at: staffordbrothers.bandpage.com

NEWSTUFF

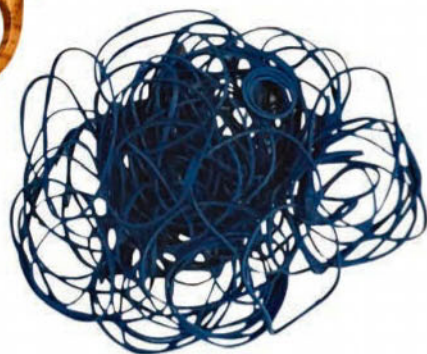

➔ THIS WEEK'S BEST SHINY GEAR THAT GOES BLEEP

RUBBER-BAND GUN

Guns have a bad habit of helping us kill people, so trade down to the 1911 Rubber-Band Gun. The worst you'll do is take an eye out. Has semi-automatic fire and a cool old-school design.

GET IT: huckberry.com

SIZE DOES MATTER

The Micro Drone 3.0 should satisfy the army of drone fans — it can stream 720p HD to your phone or Periscope in 75kmh winds for eight minutes' flight. CHECK IT: www.indiegogo.com

A SPARKLING IDEA

In an ambitious attempt to make water interesting, the SodaStream Power can carbonate H₂O to three different strengths at the touch of a button. Make water interesting? Well, it is a main ingredient in beer. CHECK IT: www.sodastream.com.au

BLOW-UP CINEMA

Instead of shelling out a few pineapples on an evening at the movies, why not host your own? Of course, you'll need a few things: overpriced popcorn, a projector and a screen large enough to watch from a suburb away. The Gemmy Airblown 39121X Movie Screen is 151x107 inches — 383cm across! — and also self-inflating. Just leave enough room to tether everything down and you're set. CHECK IT: www.amazon.com

STORE WARS

As the pic suggests, this is a 200GB microSD card — the first ever — that'll store 20 hours of HD video. It can also transfer 1200 pictures in a minute, which is pretty damn quick. CHECK IT: www.sandisk.com

ALMOST 4M WIDE!

DRINK HARDER

Look like an alcoholic Ghostbuster with the handy Triple Beverage Dispenser — three clear back-mounted tubes that can each hold 3.5 litres of liquid. That's a lot of vodka or rum. Would the tubes get sticky if we put beer in there? But hang on, the beer would get warm. So we'd have to drink it quickly. And put tequila in one tube as a chaser. Problem solved! GET IT: www.amazon.com

MAKE MINE A DOUBLE

It's as freaky as a two-headed cow! OK, not that freaky. With this bugger you can pour beer into one glass and drink it from the second. Science. Can't beat it. GET IT: www.twofisteddrinker.com

Spotlight

PLUS: WHY YOU SHOULD WATCH MELBOURNE GP

AFL's biggest HITS and MISSES

No.1 draft pick. The top of the class. Hottest prospect in the game. But in the history of the AFL draft, there have been both hits and complete misses among those first picked.

TOM SCULLY, MELBOURNE DEMONS, 2009

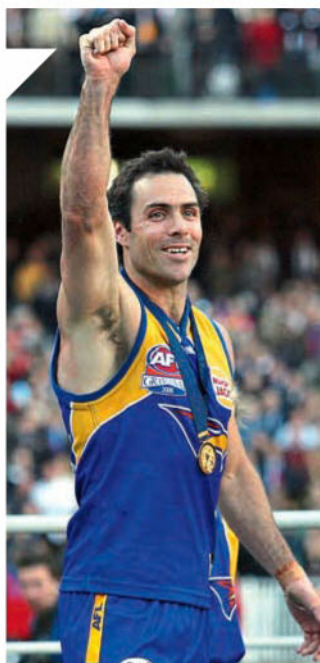

Now running around for the Giants, Scully was the most controversial of recent No.1 picks. The talented midfielder was a junior star who Melbourne — holding the No.1 and No.2 draft picks in 2009 — had their eyes on from a long way out. When they made him their No.1 pick, their regard for him was obvious in handing him the No.31 jersey — the number made famous by club legend Ron Barassi.

After making his debut with the Dees in 2010, Scully was the subject of speculation throughout 2011 that he would sign on with expansion club the GWS Giants, which he did on a six-year deal in late 2011. The controversy? Tom's dad Phil signed for the Giants as a recruiting scout at the same time, also on a six-year deal. The AFL ruled Phil's wages had to be included in the overall GWS salary cap.

DREW BANFIELD, WEST COAST EAGLES, 1992

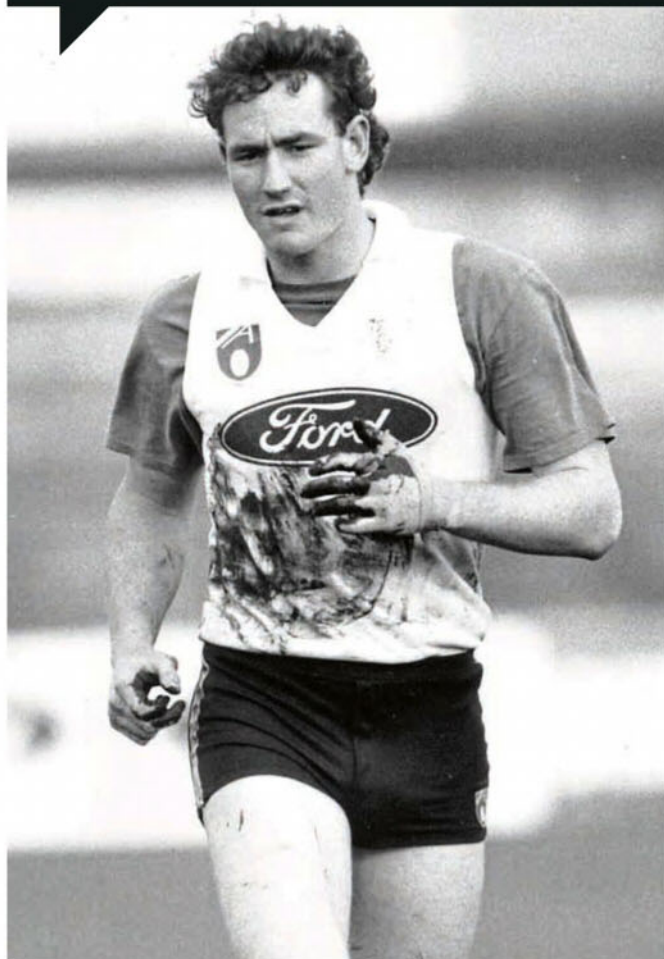

Banfield was proof the scouts were picking up their game. After a number of years of dud No.1 picks, West Coast got it right when they selected the Subiaco midfielder as their first pick and traded Scott Watters (later St Kilda coach) and Tony Begovich to the Sydney Swans to do so. Banfield went on to play 265 games over 14 seasons for the Eagles, was club champion more than once, and became the only other No.1 pick (along with 2001 Hawthorn pick Luke Hodge) to win a premiership (1994 and 2006).

STEPHEN HOOPER, GEELONG, 1990

No.1 draft picks in the late '80s-early '90s were proving a poisoned chalice. Richard Lounder (Richmond) was followed by Alex McDonald (Hawthorn) and Anthony Banik (Richmond) who also struggled to cut it at the top, while Hooper — a star with WA local side East Perth — only managed 21 games in three seasons at the Cats, becoming something of a crowd unfavourite before he headed back west never to play in the AFL again.

MATTHEW KREUZER, CARLTON, 2007

The Blues were accused of losing the last game of the 2007 season in order to secure Kreuzer, considered the hottest young ruck prospect in the game at the time. It's been one long litany of injuries since 56 consecutive games from debut as the big man has struggled to put any kind of run together. At only 26, Kreuzer can still repay the faith... but then again, he is still playing for Carlton.

AFL'S BIGGEST HITS AND MISSES

JOSH FRASER TO ADAM COONEY, 1999-2003

The period as the century closed and the new one began is arguably the golden age of No.1 draft picks in Aussie Rules history. From Collingwood picking gangly Murray Bushrangers ruckman Josh Fraser in 1999 through to the Bulldogs snaring future Brownlow medallist Adam Cooney in 2003 — with 200-plus gamers Nick Riewoldt (2000), Luke Hodge (2001) and Brendon Goddard (2002) in between — the No.1 picks from this period have all become significant, and in some cases legendary, players of the game.

RICHARD LOUNDER, RICHMOND TIGERS, 1987

Man mountain South Aussie Lounder is widely considered the biggest “bust” of all No.1 draft picks, playing only four VFL games for the Tigers after debuting in 1989 (though he kicked four majors in that first game) before returning to SA. At 204cm and more than 116kg, the ruckman unkindly dubbed “Flounder” and “The Human Tree” told The Age in 2003 that homesickness was a factor in his return, as well as a lack of support when he moved to Melbourne. Asked whether he had the appetite for success, given his No.1 status, Lounder confessed: “It wasn’t a burning desire because I wasn’t naturally gifted... I had to work very hard just to keep my weight down. I used to enjoy a beer as well, and that makes it very hard. If you want to be an elite footballer, you certainly don’t drink and don’t smoke and you’re in bed by eight o’clock, and they are actually the things I quite like to do.”

MARTIN LESLIE, BRISBANE BEARS, 1986

The No.1 draft pick in 1986, Leslie was a star of the South Aussie league with Port Adelaide when the newly created Brisbane Bears snapped him up in the very first modern AFL-style draft, after 1981 and 1982. Leslie was jobless at the time and later recalled he was on his way to the dole office when he picked up a newspaper and learned he was going to Brisvegas — a far cry from today's mass media event. "I saw the back page and thought, "OK, no need to go get the dole..." Leslie went on to become the Bears' Best and Fairest in 1990 and 1993, playing 107 games for the fledgling club.

JOHN HUTTON, BRISBANE BEARS, 1991

Another West Australian with big raps, full forward Hutton also failed to set the world on fire, embarrassingly moved on after his debut season with the Bears and only managing 36 games in total with Brisbane, Sydney and Fremantle. In the end Hutton became more famous for the fact he wore chunky headgear throughout most of his career... as a goal-kicker.

zoo
sport

The No.1s

1986: Martin Leslie
(Brisbane Bears)

1987: Richard Louder
(Richmond)

1988: Alex McDonald
(Hawthorn)

1989: Anthony Banik
(Richmond)

1990: Stephen Hooper
(Geelong)

1991: John Hutton
(Brisbane Bears)

1992: Drew Banfield
(West Coast)

1993: Darren Gaspar
(Sydney Swans)

1994: Jeff White (Fremantle)

1995: Clive Waterhouse
(Fremantle)

1996: Michael Gardiner
(West Coast)

1997: Travis Johnstone
(Melbourne)

1998: Des Headland
(Brisbane Lions)

1999: Josh Fraser
(Collingwood)

2000: Nick Riewoldt (St Kilda)

2001: Luke Hodge (Hawthorn)

2002: Brendon Goddard
(St Kilda)

2003: Adam Cooney
(Western Bulldogs)

2004: Brett Deledio (Richmond)

2005: Marc Murphy (Carlton)

2006: Bryce Gibbs (Carlton)

2007: Matthew Kreuzer
(Carlton)

2008: Jack Watts (Melbourne)

2009: Tom Scully (Melbourne)

2010: David Swallow
(Gold Coast)

2011: Jon Patton (GWS)
— Jaeger O'Meara (Gold Coast)
in mini-draft

2012: Lachie Whitfield (GWS)
— Jack Martin (Gold Coast)
in mini-draft

2013: Tom Boyd (GWS)

2014: Paddy McCartin (St Kilda)

Not watching MOTOGP? Here's why you should be...

The world's premiere two-wheel motor sport makes F1 look like a three-legged race

➤ There is no other sport like MotoGP. To even call it a "sport" is a stretch. It's more like a race-fuel-fed, testicle-weighting exercise that happens at 350-plus kmh.

Unlike Formula One, there are no safety capsules, no roll cages, and no seat belts.

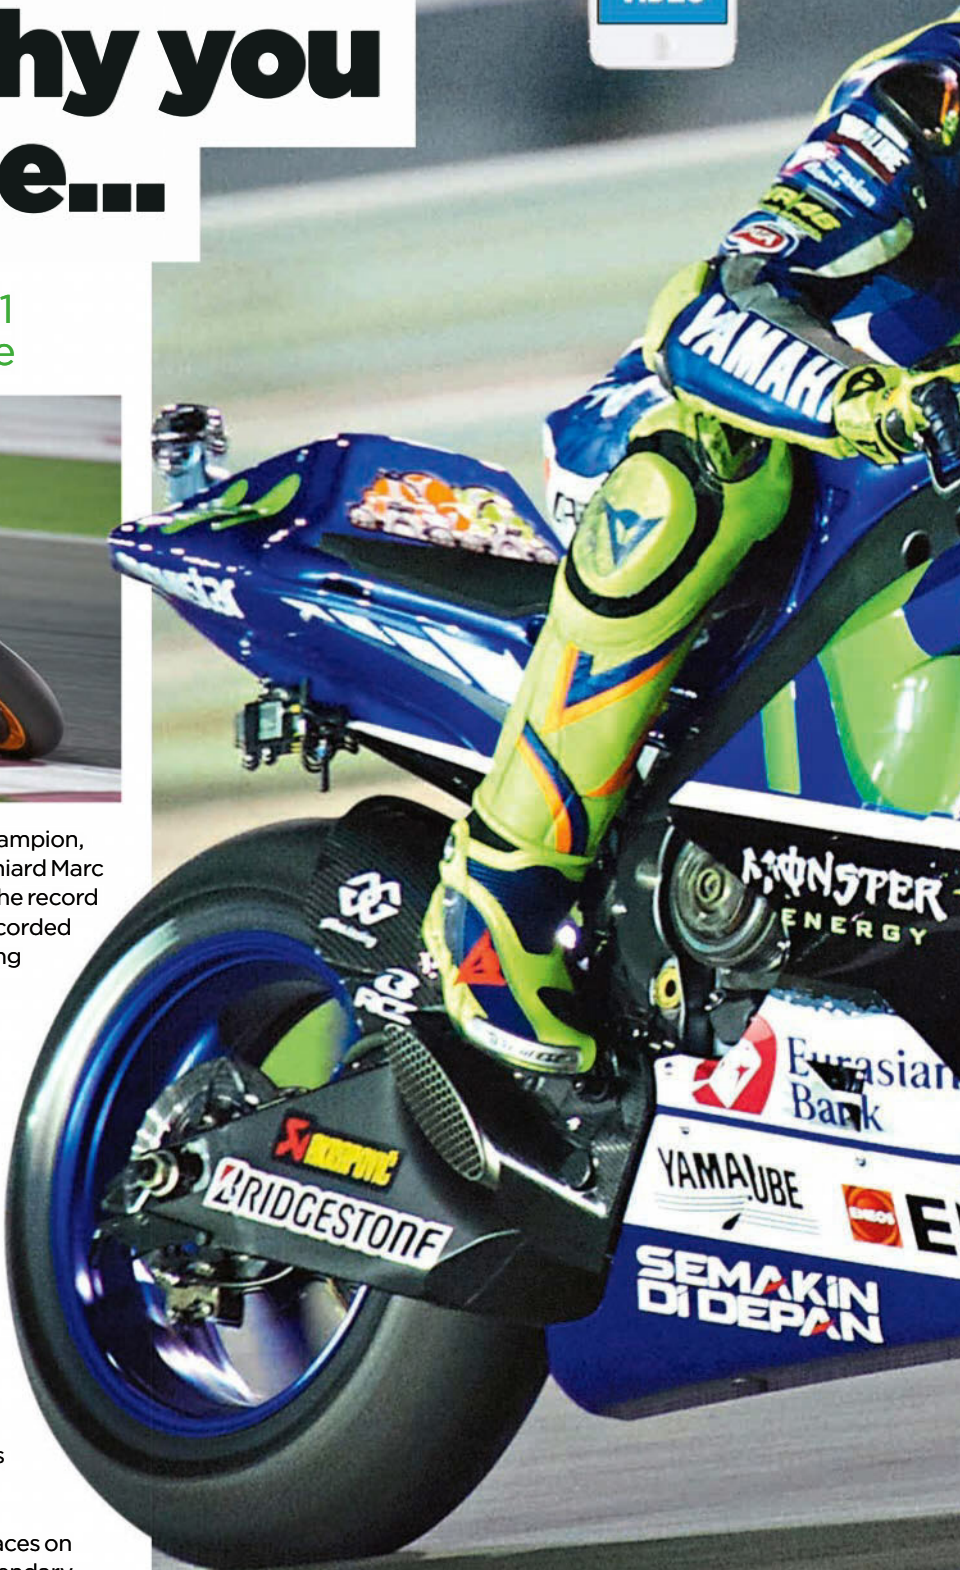

There's just men dressed in leather, death-gripping handlebars and grinding their armoured knees and elbows along the bitumen as they cheat explosive destruction every single nanosecond of every single lap. And it's been that way since 1949. The only difference is that it's now faster and more hell-furious than ever before. You can thank technology for that.

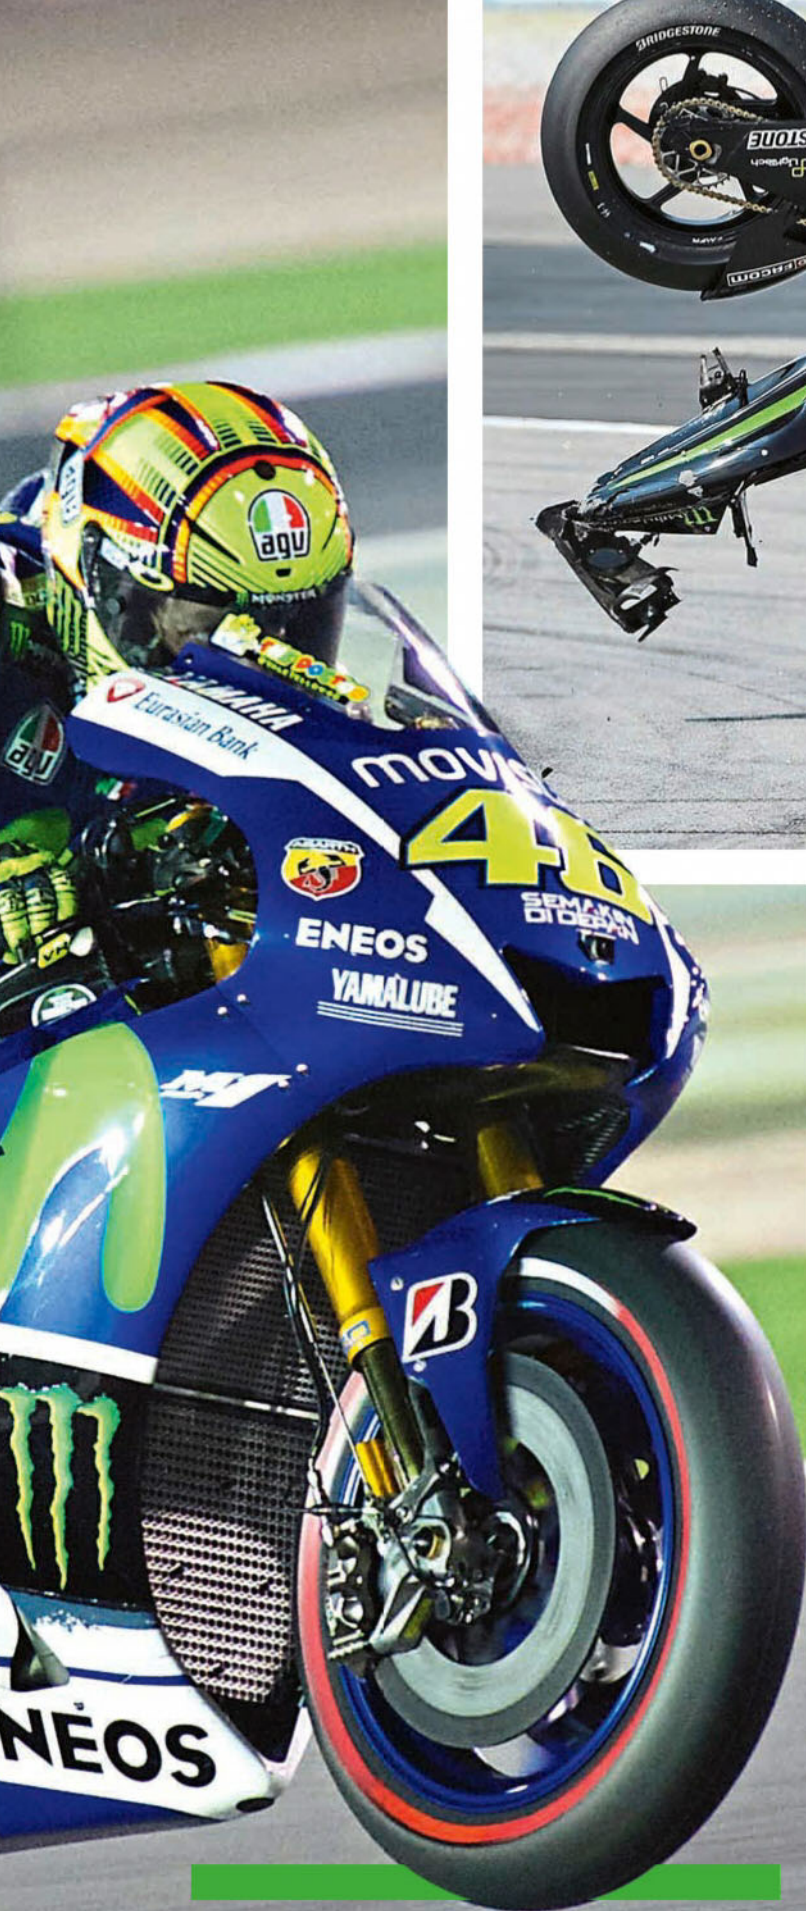

The top-end MotoGP bikes weigh under 135kg and produce 240bhp. The current world champion, 22-year-old Spaniard Marc Marquez, holds the record for the fastest recorded motorcycle-racing speed, hitting 350.29kmh at Qatar at the start of this season. He still didn't win, but. That honour went to nine-time world champion, 36-year-old Valentino Rossi, who currently leads the championship as the 2015 series hits the halfway point.

There are 18 races on the calendar, legendary racetracks like Assen, known as the Cathedral

GET THE APP!

DOCTORS SEWED ONE OF HIS LEGS ONTO THE OTHER...

of Speed, Le Mans, known as the Cathedral of French Cheese, and Phillip Island in Australia, known as The Place Where Fans Freeze In Knee-Deep Mud While Wild Seagulls Smash Into The Racers. Silverstone, Indianapolis, Jerez, Mugello, Sepang — all are turned into fighting pits for racers with balls the size of moons. These are men who have to wrap their arm tendons in tape to stop their bones shooting through their flesh as they brake from 350kmh to 40kmh in 50metres.

Do they die? Yes, they do. But not as often as you would think.

The last fatality in MotoGP was the Lion King, Marco Simoncelli, who perished in a racing incident at Sepang in 2011. Before that, it was Daijiro Kato at Suzuka in 2003.

Crippling injuries are also rare, probably because the racers are just too damn tough. In 2013, Jorge Lorenzo binned it at Assen, smashing his collarbone into shards of pain. He boarded a plane that afternoon, was bolted together with plates and screws, and was back to qualify the next day. He came fifth.

Aussie legend Mick

Doohan smashed his leg so badly on his way to five world championships, the doctors sewed it to his other leg for a few months so it wouldn't rot away. Then they unsewed it, and he'd limp to his bike on crutches on race day, and then win.

Marquez punted himself into a wall during practice in 2013 at Mugello, recording the fastest ever motorcycle crash (337.9kmh), and recording more than 25G of impact on his race-suit telemetry (it stops recording at 25G). He put a Band-Aid on his chin and raced the next day.

They are the fastest men on two wheels. Their smiles are pretty, they have great teeth, but they are tougher than North Korean winters. Their girlfriends are the hottest and their testicles are the largest and heaviest.

You should make it a priority to check them out.

➔ MotoGP 15 is available for Xbox One, Xbox 360, PS4, PS3 and PC on July 9.

MAD

SEND US YOUR FREAKY PIGS AND SCORE
SOME CASH

POST YOUR INSANITY ON OUR FACEBOOK FACEBOOK.COM/ZOOWEEKLYOZ
TEXT YOUR MAD MOMENTS TO 0481 033 584
EMAIL YOUR AWESOME IMAGES TO ZOO@BAUER-MEDIA.COM.AU

PIC
OF THE WEEK

$200 WINNER

ON THE ROAD TO SUCCESS,
THERE ARE NO SHORTCUTS.

JOIN OUR TEAM
0481-668-0322
shafferttrucking.com

SHAFER
TRUCKING

IRONIC AND MORONIC

"Some people need to try harder at life. Old mate will be paying for this shortcut. What a fail!"

ANON, VIA TEXT

IN THE BOX SEAT

Uni life is awesome.

Anon, via text

MAKE ME

I live life by my own rules.

Anon, via text

ERECTILE DYSFUNCTION

That's not how you pitch a tent!

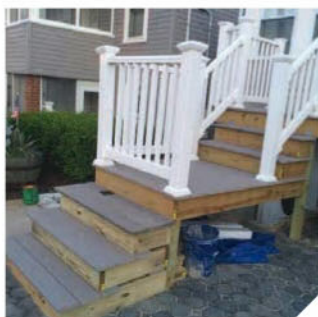

Anon, via text

STICKY SITUATION

Covered my boozy boyfriend in tape.

Anon, via text

MAJOR MISSTEP

And the tradie of the year is...

Anon, via text

SHOW US YOUR VIDEOS!

$200 FOR THE VID OF THE WEEK!

ZOO gets your insane photos every week, now with the new viewa app we can show videos as well! If you've got a classic vid of you or a mate getting a tatt, taking a stack or doing anything worthy of being in ZOO, then EMAIL your video to...

ZOO@BAUER-MEDIA.COM.AU

TEXT YOUR MAD MOMENTS TO 0481 033 584

GET THE APP!

SHOW US YOUR TATTS

A BIT KOI

One more session to complete my koi.
Anon, via text

GET YOUR POINT

Dagger got your tongue?

My latest ink!

Anon, via text

VERY APE

Just had it done in San Fran.
Anon, via text

GOT YOUR GOAT

My second piece is done.

Anon, via text

THAT'S GOTTA HURT!

LIP SERVICE

"Had a mad moto accident. Split my lip when I rode my bike into a tree. Was painful to say the least!"

ANON, VIA TEXT

MISSING DIGITS

Foot got thrashed in a work accident.

Anon, via text

TATT'S GROSS

Injuries from a bike accident.

Anon, via text

FRESH MEAT

Scratched my leg to the bone.

Anon, via text

FEELING KNEEDY

Haven't played basketball for a while!

Anon, via text

RIPPED OFF

After a car door attacked me.

Anon, via text

STITCHED UP

Four hours in the ER and 20 stitches.

Anon, via text

LIMP BISCUIT

The staff must've been blind... drunk.
Anon, via text

PANTS ON FIRE

Things got heated after a few too many!
Anon, via text

HAVING A SKINFUL

Getting on the beer bong in costume!
Anon, via text

FIRST MUD

Work shenanigans getting out of hand.
Anon, via text

POSTER BOY

Our ZOO feature walls. Love the mag!
Hamish, via email

ZOO KEEPERS

Published by the Bauer Media Group

Level 12, 54 Park Street, Sydney, NSW 2000
Email: zoo@bauer-media.com.au

Editor Shayne Bugden 02 9288 9675
Managing Editor Nick Clark 02 8116 9357
Editorial Coordinator Carmen Winch 02 8114 9437

ART

Head of Design Gavin Cook 02 9288 9663
Senior Designer Nick Clark 02 8114 9481
Designer Jo Alvarez 02 8114 9459 Designer in Chief Tony Halpin

PICTURES

Photo Editor Manisha Parmar 02 8114 9493
Photo Editor Lewis Astridge 02 8114 9444

PRODUCTION

Advertising Production Coordinator Klara Mazzarolo

ADVERTISING

National Brand Manager Aaron Morton 02 9263 9744
Director of Sales Tony Kendall 02 9263 9760
QLD Sales Director 07 3101 6630
Director of Media Solutions Simon Davies 02 9282 8731
NSW Sales Director 02 9282 8726
Creative Director Advertising 02 9282 8157

MARKETING

Marketing Manager Brony Popp 02 9282 8583
Assistant Brand Manager Gracia Anwar 02 8114 9490

BAUER MEDIA

Chief Executive Officer David Goodchild
Publisher, Specialist Titles Cornelia Schulze
Associate Publisher, Men's & Specialist Titles Ewen Page
Editorial and Media Director, Women's Magazines and Custom Publishing Deborah Thomas Group Circulation Manager Paul Weaving
Research Director Justin Stone
Syndication Inquiries Sydney Greg Allen-Waters
(gallen-waters@bauer-media.com.au)
WA Advertising: Vikki Stacy 08 9207 1500
Commercial Manager - Specialist Division Christy Trollip

ZOO INTERNATIONAL

International Director Simon Greves
Head of International Content Anouska Christy
International Content Executive Ellie Bond
For ZOO Syndication queries Ryan Chambers
ryan.chambers@bauermedia.co.uk

PRIVACY NOTICE: This issue of ZOO is published by Bauer Media Pty Ltd (Bauer). Bauer may use and disclose your information in accordance with our Privacy Policy, including to provide you with your requested products or services and to keep you informed of other Bauer publications, products, services and events. Our Privacy Policy is located at www.bauer-media.com.au/privacy/. It also sets out on how you can access or correct your personal information and lodge a complaint. Bauer may disclose your personal information offshore to its owners, joint venture partners, service providers and agents located throughout the world, including in New Zealand, USA, the Philippines and the European Union. In addition, this issue may contain Reader Offers, being offers, competitions or surveys. Reader Offers may require you to provide personal information to enter or to take part. Personal information collected for Reader Offers may be disclosed by us to service providers assisting Bauer in the conduct of the Reader Offer and to other organisations providing special prizes or offers that are part of the Reader Offer. An opt-out choice is provided with a Reader Offer. Unless you exercise that opt-out choice, personal information collected for Reader Offers may also be disclosed by us to other organisations for use by them to inform you about other products, services or events or to give to other organisations that may use this information for this purpose. If you require further information, please contact Bauer's Privacy Officer either by email at privacyofficer@bauer-media.com.au or mail at Privacy Officer Bauer Media Pty Ltd, 54 Park Street, Sydney NSW 2000.

ISSN: 1833-3222

ZOO is published in Australia by Bauer Media Action Sports Pty Limited, part of the Bauer Media Group, ACN 079 430 023, 54-58 Park Street, Sydney, New South Wales, under licence from Bauer Consumer Media Limited, 1 Lincoln Court, Lincoln Road, Peterborough PE1 2RF. © 2015

DO IT RIGHT NOW!
SAVE A HUGE
53% WHEN YOU
SUBSCRIBE!

SPECIAL OFFER

Visit magshop.com.au or call 136 116.
A one-year subscription (52 issues) is $119 — that's 53% off! — or you can subscribe for four months (13 issues) for $35!

SCHLONG STORY

"G'day, ZOO. Check out this awesome business name I came across!"
PAUL, VIA EMAIL

zoo
uncut

TO SEE MORE STUNNING BABES, GO TO INTHEZOO.COM.AU

BABE

WATCH

THIS WEEK'S HOTTEST NEW GIRLS

WHO THE FK IS ALICE?

That's what we've been asking since seeing this hot shot of the 26-year-old from Yokine, WA. MacGyver would be proud of what she's done with that shoelace.

NO SLEEP TILL BROOKLYN

The sight of Scarborough stunner Brooklyn holding her perfectly shaped gazoinga is gonna keep us up for nights.

SCROLL DOWN

We're hoping that tattoo down Zia's side is instructions 'cos we'd have no idea how to operate a girl that sexy. She's a gym owner from Victoria Park, WA.

UNDER THE WEATHER

Ever since we found out Perth babe Teneille was a nurse, we've come down with a persistent swelling we feel requires immediate medical attention... and a sponge bath.

PICTURES: HTTP://WWW.BRODIEBUTLER.COM

THE ZLIST

GAMES

MOVIES

MUSIC

BLU RAY

TV

CHICKS

LAUGHS

GAMES

RACING

MOTOGP 15

PS4, XBI, PS3, XB360, PC

8/10

THE GIST: Pro moto racing returns, starring iconic riders from the real MotoGP series, and shifts gears with new physics, time trials, 12 players online and a cool new career mode.

ZOO SAYS: Play this sober! Super-slick realism means crashes are frequent but fair during your rookie phase, with balance and G-forces hurting most. Looks slick and feels real.

SPORT

RORY MCILROY PGA TOUR

XBI, PS4

7/10

ZOO SAYS: Most golf games are so dull they make us wanna smash our console with a nine-iron, but the new, mini Night Club Challenges add some fun. Where's Tiger's cheating challenge?

WIN! MOTOGP 15 ON PS4

For your chance to win one of five promo copies of MotoGP 15 on PS4, simply email zoo@bauer-media.com.au with your mobile number and postal address, and let us know in 25 words or less where you would like to ride a MotoGP bike and why*.

* See www.inthezoo.com.au for terms & conditions

BLU-RAY

HORROR

IT FOLLOWS

[MA15+]

5/10

THE GIST: A hot girl (Maika Monroe) is stalked by Death in various forms (creepy old ladies, etc) after shagging her boyfriend, who passed on the pesky curse. ZOO SAYS: It Follows is getting rave reviews (96 per cent on Rotten Tomatoes), but it's not scary or original like they claim. It's just a weak teen horror with a lame STI metaphor.

DRAMA

SONS OF ANARCHY: SEASON 6

[MA15+]

8/10

THE GIST: Jax (Charlie Hunnam) and SAMCRO face all sorts of nasties this season: Iranian torture porn scumbags, crooked cops and Nazi skinheads. Jax also tries to get the Sons out of the gun trade after a school shooting.

ZOO SAYS: With the final series not far off, it's worth catching up or reacquainting yourself with this rad season (and the bonus guff). A bloke gets drowned in a bath full of piss, so best not watch it on a date night. The finale features a GoT-worthy shock.

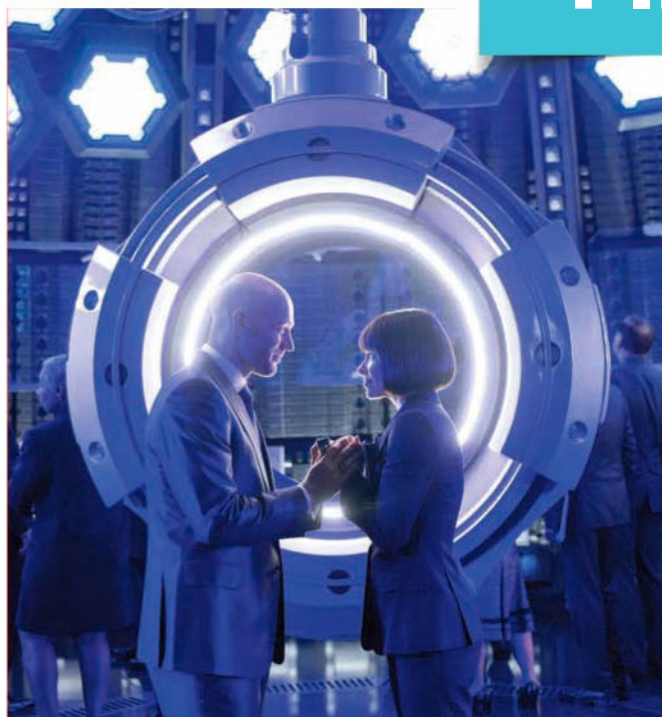

DRAMA/HORROR

MAGGIE

[M]

7/10

THE GIST: A father (Arnold Schwarzenegger) does whatever it takes to protect his daughter (Abigail Breslin, Zombieland), who is slowly being consumed by a zombie virus wiping out humans. ZOO SAYS: It has the occasional scare, but this is mostly a slow-paced, well-acted and quite sad drama about a father's unconditional love.

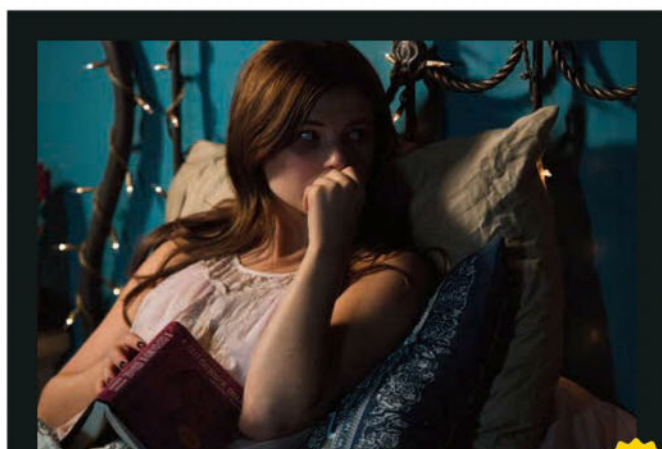

SUPERHERO

ANT-MAN [CTC]

THE GIST: A genius scientist (Michael Douglas) gives an amazing suit to a conman with a good heart (Paul Rudd). In it he can shrink to a size smaller than Verne Troyer's prostate, increase his strength and control insects. Now he has to pull off a heist, save the planet... and tell all the ants to get out of the ZOO kitchen.

ZOO PREDICTS: Of all the roughly 82,000 Marvel movies that are coming out from now until the year 2145, this is one of the few we're not that excited about. Like Guardians of the Galaxy, it's not about a well-known character. Unlike Guardians, it doesn't look mind-blowing. Here's hoping we're wrong...

HORROR

INSIDIOUS: CHAPTER 3 [M]

6/10

THE GIST: A prequel to the first two films, it's set before the Lambert family had the crap scared out of them, and shows how geriatric psychic Elise Rainier (Lin Shaye) reluctantly agreed to use her ability to contact the dead to help a teenage girl (Stefanie Scott).

ZOO SAYS: With James Wan busy making blockbusters like Fast & Furious 7, his Aussie right-hand man, Leigh Whannell, takes the wheel, writing and directing the franchise's third film with plenty of class. Quite slow in places, it's not overly scary, so your undies should be safe.

DRAMA/COMEDY

RUBEN GUTHRIE [CTC]

7/10

THE GIST: Ruben (Patrick Brammall) is a successful Sydney ad guy who's given an ultimatum by his hot Euro model fiancée (Abbey Lee) after he almost dies while pissed: give up the booze for a year, or it's over. Once she bails, Ruben goes to AA, but finds ditching grog in Oz isn't easy when it's so ingrained in our culture.

ZOO SAYS: Written and directed by theatre, film and TV stalwart Brendan Cowell, while it does have several funny bits (and one 9/11 joke that falls flat), this is more drama than comedy. Sydney looks schmick and the cast is top-notch, but word of warning: it may put you off alcohol.

PROG/SPACE
GRUNGE

FAILURE THE HEART IS A MONSTER

9/10

SOUNDS LIKE:

Alt-rock with touches of prog and spacey-sounding grunge.

ZOO SAYS: It's been 19 years since the underrated US legends' classic Fantastic Planet album, and they've still got it. It's no wonder bands like Tool are always singing their praises.

Loving this UK beach weather!

DANCE

CHEMICAL BROTHERS BORN IN THE ECHOES

SOUNDS LIKE: With advance copies rarer than Collingwood supporters' teeth, we can only comment on the first four tracks released so far off the UK electro duo's first album in five years. Sometimes I Feel So Deserted and EML Ritual are light on vocals but heavy on the building beats.

Under Neon Lights is a bit weird, but Go (feat Q-Tip) is one of 2015's best songs. ZOO PREDICTS: Could be solid if more singles balance out the electro bangers. Pumped for Beck's cameo on Wide Open.

ALT-COUNTRY

JASON ISBELL SOMETHING MORE THAN FREE

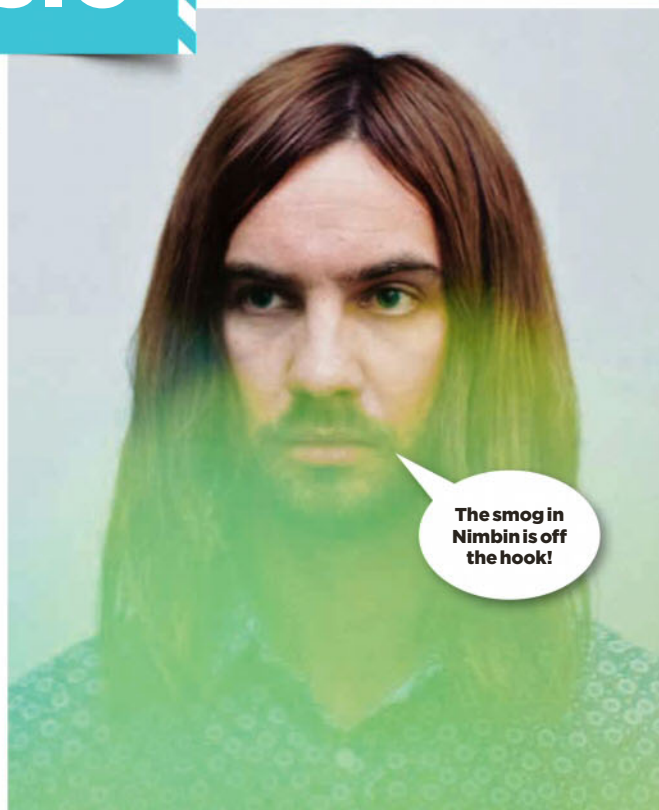

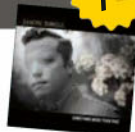

7/10

SOUNDS LIKE:

Nowhere as dark as his last post-rehab album Southeastern, the now sober former Drive-By Truckers is still writing from the heart on these expertly crafted alt-country songs.

ZOO SAYS: The quality songwriting makes the country twang bearable.

The smog in Nimbin is off the hook!

PSYCH ROCK/
ELECTRO

TAME IMPALA CURRENTS

8/10

SOUNDS LIKE: For a band popular for psychedelic guitar rock and stomping riffs like Elephant, it's brave for main man Kevin Parker to push his WA stoner group into new, virtually guitar-free territory. Mostly made up of woozy syths, memorable basslines and '70s-style vocal harmonies, Currents is a different trip, but one worth taking.

ZOO SAYS: 'Cause I'm a Man, The Less I Know the Better and Eventually are pop songs given an acid wash, Past Life's spoken word is a bit annoying, but the epic Let It Happen is one of the best jams we've heard in years.

TV

DON'T MISS THIS WEEK

THE ASHES

GEM, THURSDAY JULY 16, 7.30PM

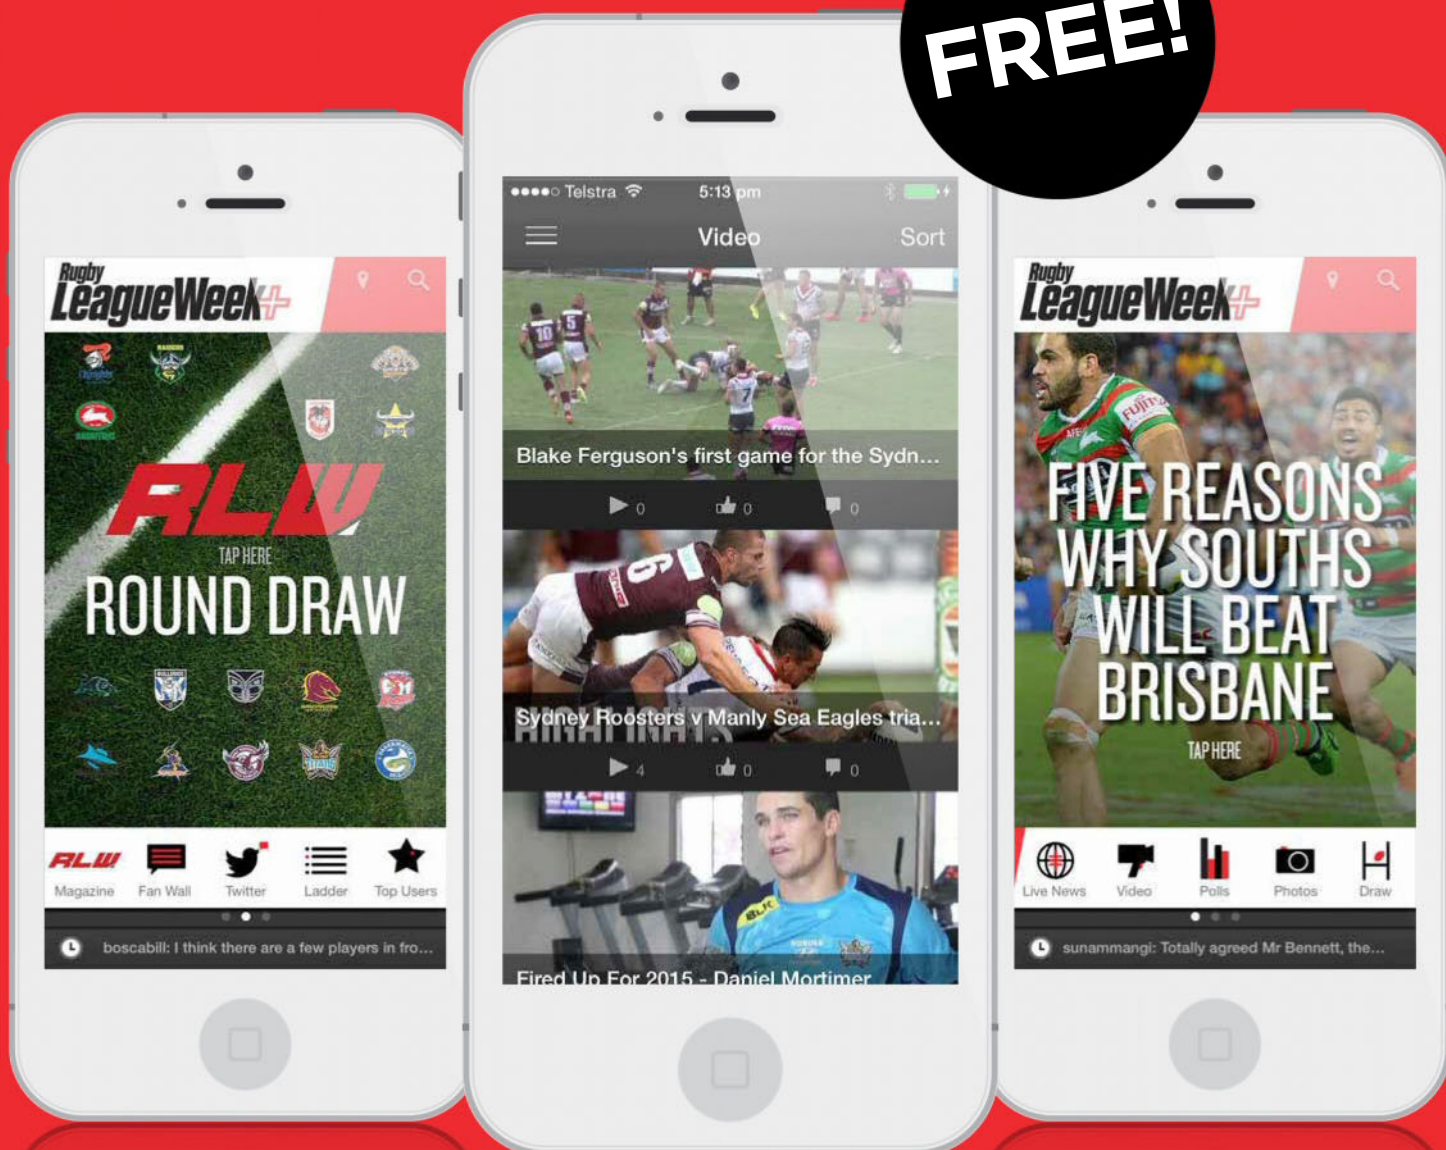

Conveniently timed so you can watch the action live straight after knock off, get ready for plenty of late nights watching the Aussies spank the Poms at the almighty Lord's. We recommend pencilling in a sickie on the Friday so you're not good for nothing at work.

KEEP UP WITH THE LATEST
RUGBY LEAGUE NEWS, STATS AND VIDEOS AS THEY HAPPEN.

FREE!

NEWS / ROUND DRAWS / LEAGUE LADDER / VIDEOS READER POLLS / INTERVIEWS / PHOTOS & MORE!

Search for Rugby League Week + on the  or using

Apple, the Apple logo and iPad are trademarks of Apple Inc., registered in the U.S. and other countries. App Store is a service mark of Apple Inc.

$200
IN CASH TO BE WON!

WIN
$100

Make sure you include "Crossword puzzle" and the issue number (it's at the top left of the contents page) in the subject line of your email.

1. The beer Homer Simpson drinks(4)
4. A vacuum cleaner does this (5)
7. A bubbly, relaxing tub (3)
8. Heavily costumed Finnish hard rockers who won Eurovision in 2006 (5)
9. Classic MMA film starring Tom Hardy and Nick Nolte (7)
10. Colour associated with the Dutch football team (6)
11. Someone who will probably die of lung cancer (6)
12. Byron Bay metalcore quintet, Parkway --- (5)
13. Cars that aren't manual (5)
14. Legendary Aussie band who are touring the country later this year (1,1/1,1)
16. Home ground of the EPL's Manchester United, Old --- (8)

21. Stick these in your lugs if you have noisy neighbours (8)
22. They whistle while they work (4)
23. Actor Mark Hamill's only real claim to fame is his portrayal of Luke --- (9)
24. Actor who died recently, aged 93, and played dozens of classic roles, Christopher --- (3)

1. Sex toy that looks like a big wang (5)
2. Italian sports car brand (7)
3. Classic film from the '70s in which a big shark chomps beachgoers (4)
4. Playing position in rugby union; George Gregan was one (5,4)
5. One of the greatest sports in the world, but five days of it might Test your patience (7)

6. How you feel when you realise your Thai princess is a man (9)
7. Summer garment also known as a wife beater (7)
12. Blokes who you buy your weed from (7)
15. Show that's somewhat like Jackass, and is named after a sex act involving poo, --- Sanchez (5)
17. If you're talked into getting married in a church, you'll have to walk down this (5)
18. It might be silent and violent, or loud and proud (4)
19. Type of gun favoured by snipers (5)
20. Chili Peppers bassist, or a tiny insect you might find on your dog (4)

WIN $100

1		6				7		4
			5	4	7	3		1
9	1		6			4
		8	7	1	4	2
		7			3		5	8
7		5	2	8	1
2		4				8		9

For a chance to win $100 cash, send your details and the winning number to zoo@bauer-media.com.au. Make sure you include "Zoodoku" and the issue number (it's at the top left of the contents page) in the subject line of your email.

Competition closes 11:59pm on 19/7/2015. Open to Australian Residents. Comp drawn at 2.00pm on 20/7/2015 at ZOO magazine, level 12, 54 Park St, Sydney, NSW 2000. The Promoter is Bauer Media Group, (ABN 18 053 273 546). Authorised under permit numbers NSW Permit No. LTPM/14/01368, ACT Permit No. TP14/04447.

1	2	3	4	5
---	---	---	---	---

- i) Actor who's back — as he promised — in the role that made him an '80s star (7,5)
- ii) Aussie golfer who could never quite win (3,2)
- iii) Awesome thriller movie starring Brad Pitt and Morgan Freeman (6)
- iv) Smartphone app that contacts cheap taxis driven by normal people in their cars (4)

- v) Beach-loving Canadian model/actress whose second-most famous TV role was in V.I.P. (9,1)
- vi) Superhero mega publishers behind films such as Guardians of the Galaxy and Ant-Man (8)
- vii) Cult 1999 comedy film about work life (11,10)
- ix) On-demand net streaming TV/films channel (12)

Answer on p.70

Bills suck. Get something better in your mailbox!

SUBSCRIBE TO

ZOO

& SAVE!

13 issues for only $35.

That's just $2.70 an issue when you subscribe with our easy auto-renewal method.

To subscribe visit www.magshop.com.au/zoo or call 136 116 and quote
M1500ZOO

6 THINGS
TO SAY
DOWN
THE PUB ABOUT...

ASTEROIDS

With the inaugural Asteroid Day safely past, we look at the flying rocks that could end us all...

1 The first Asteroid Day on June 30 was held to highlight the dangers facing mankind from possible deadly asteroids — and raise funds for a $320m orbiting telescope that can give us advance warning

2 The day marked the 107th anniversary of the Tunguska event, where a 70-metre asteroid exploded 8.5km above the Siberian site. The energy of the explosion was 1000 times greater than the Hiroshima atomic bomb. It knocked 80 million trees down in circles radiating from the blast point. A man 65km away was flung into the air by the force

3 Currently, 12,706 Near Earth Objects (NEOs) are being tracked, of which 1593 might hit us, with another

152 larger than 1km potentially “devastating” on impact

4 Alarm bells rang in 2004 when a 270-metre rock was given a 1-in-25 chance of hitting Earth in 2036. That was later changed to a 1-in-250,000 chance

5 And in 2008, for a time it seemed an object would strike Mecca, heart of the Muslim world

6 Options for dealing with certain impact are Nuke, Kick or Tug. The first is what it says on the box. Kick fires an object to knock it off course, and Tug sees an unmanned spacecraft (or “gravity tractor”) sent into its orbit to pull it off its trajectory. None of them have been tested yet. Is Bruce Willis available?

+ In military speak, RPG doesn’t stand for rocket-propelled grenade; it comes from the Russian word ruchnoy protivotankovyy granatomyot, meaning hand-held anti-tank grenade launcher

+ Masturbating more than 21 times a month can decrease your chances of getting prostate cancer

+ During World War Two Nazi scientist Josef Mengele tried to sew the bodies of two twins together in order to create conjoined twins

+ New York is the most destroyed city in movie history, biting it at least 14 times

+ Every year the Chinese city of Yulin celebrates the summer solstice with a dog-eating festival. Around 10,000 pooches are eaten

+ Norway’s first hijacking attempt, in June 1985, was resolved when the perpetrator was persuaded to surrender his weapon in exchange for beer

+ A lock of Elvis Presley’s hair was auctioned for $115,000 in 2002

+ Human skin, taken from corpses, donors or criminals, was often used for bookbinding in the 19th Century

I think I picked up Rebel Wilson's order by mistake

The 10,000-calorie Haystack burger includes a 40oz beef pattie, eight rashers of bacon, eight onion rings, cheese, lettuce, tomato and a foot-wide bun

LARGEST HUMAN ORGANS (EXCEPT THAT ONE)

1	Skin	10,886 grams
2	Liver	1560g
3	Brain	1263g
4	Lungs	1090g
5	Heart	315g
6	Kidneys	290g
7	Spleen	170g
8	Pancreas	98g
9	Thyroid	35g
10	Prostate	20g

Source: Propel Steps

+ The first white man to break the 10-second barrier in the 100-metre sprint was French athlete Christophe Lemaitre, in 2010

+ In Cuba, picking up hitchhikers is mandatory for all government vehicles

+ Actor Chevy Chase avoided the US military draft by falsely claiming he had "homosexual tendencies"

+ Singer Tom Jones has been married to the same woman for 58 years, even though he's openly admitted to bedding 250 groupies a year

+ Samoan culture recognises three genders: male, female and fa'afafine (feminine male)

+ In the original draft of the Charlie and the Chocolate Factory book, hundreds of children died. But publishers made author Roald Dahl remove the deaths

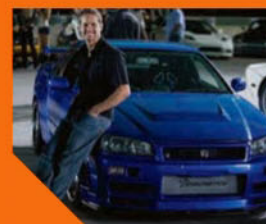

+ Since 1945 all British tanks have come equipped with tea-making facilities

+ Around 30 per cent of the western world's fruit and veggies are thrown away before they get to supermarkets because they don't look good enough

+ Perfect pitch occurs in 60 per cent of blind musicians, but only 10 per cent of sighted ones

+ New York's Central Park has as much biodiversity as many wild environments, despite being smack-bang in the middle of the city

+ Within 24 hours of his tragic death, 30 of Paul Walker's cars had been stolen

TOP

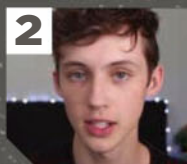

10

MOST-SUBSCRIBED AUSSIE YOUTUBE CHANNELS

Source: socialblade.com

HowToBasic (comedy) 5.03m subscribers

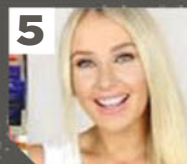

TroyeSivan18 (comedy) 3.41m

iggyazalea musicVEVO (music) 3.26m

Ddtop20 (kids) 3.14m

Laurenbeauty (beauty) 2.98m

1veritasium (science) 2.55m

Jayesslee (music) 1.98m

Janoskians (comedy) 1.94m

Hemmo1996 (music) 1.77m

Community channel (comedy) 1.7m

GET FACT!

THIS WEEK: TAXI DRIVERS

700 $400,000 per cent: increase in Uber's market share in the 12 months to January 2015

Cost of a single taxi plate in Australia

50 BILLION dollars: current market value of Uber

91 PER CENT

Increase in the public's general unhappiness about taxi drivers; compliments for their services are down 60 per cent

15 HOURS

Time per day Robert De Niro spent driving taxis in New York for a month to prepare for his role as lunatic cabbie Travis Bickle in Taxi Driver (1976)

ONE

Ranking of porn channel Fake Taxi on YouPorn, with almost 35 million views

12

People killed by rogue UK taxi driver, Derrick Bird, who went on a rampage in England in 2010

29 thousand dollars: average take-home salary of a taxi driver in Oz, after they've paid the plate owner their 50 per cent share

Spew in the backseat of my cab, will ya?

65 thousand:
total number of taxi drivers in Australia

BODY ODOUR

One of 52 controversial criteria used by bosses at San Diego airport to judge potential taxi drivers

PREMATURE EJACULATION

DON'T GET KNOCKED OUT IN THE FIRST ROUND

"I used to drink alcohol just to go the distance, but that just caused me more trouble with my relationship. Eventually I started avoiding sex altogether, that's when we drifted apart. The call I made to IMH was the best call I ever made. My new girlfriend is more than happy with my performance in the bedroom, the program really worked for me."

Derek, NSW

- Ever avoided sex for fear of embarrassment?
- Struggle to satisfy your partner?
- Relationship problems?
- Coming too quickly?

The Insitutiute of Men's Health supervised medical treatment program is set to revolutionise the way Australian men perform. Make a Confidential call to speak to one of our registered doctors on the phone and make the jump to a better and more confident sex life. Premature ejaculation is a complex issue with a simple solution. Call now to speak to one of our experienced doctors.

2 Months FREE TREATMENT First 50 Callers

Gentleman, don't be a "three-pump chump."

Call 1300 780 712 to reach our clinical coordinators.

If you're not satisfied, check out or money-back guarantee.

The first 50 callers get 2 months of FREE treatment, so don't hesitate - call now!

Call 1300 780 712 or visit imh.com.au for a FREE assessment

“That which does not kill me makes me feel like a beer”

– Friedrich Nietzsche

IN THE ZOO

I N T H E Z O O . C O M . A U